FIREMEN ARE SUMMONED TO THREE BLAZES

Gettysburg firemen were summoned to three fires within the last 24 hours.

At 7:14 o'clock Wednesday evening a small barn on the property of Hugh Keckler, Water Works Rd., was destroyed. Firemen estimated the loss at $700. According to Assistant Fire Chief Charles J. Kerrigan a man went to the home of Col. John Eisenhower, across the road from the Keckler property, to ask Mrs. Eisenhower to call the firemen. She summoned the fire department, then drove to a church where Mr. and Mrs. Keckler were attending services to advise them of the blaze.

A pony and several dogs in the shed were rescued, but a steer burned to death.

TRACTOR DAMAGED

This morning at 5:23 o'clock the firemen were summoned to a burning tractor along the Lincoln Highway two miles east of here. Damage was estimated at $4,000. Firemen said Robert Ashby, Hagerstown, driver, coasted it to a parked position along the side of the road when the drive shaft bounced out of the vehicle. Ashby had gotten into a passing car which was to take him back to pick up the drive shaft when the tractor burst into flames. The truck was owned by the Pony Express Co., of Hagerstown.

While firemen were at the tractor fire they were summoned at 5:30 o'clock to a fan motor which had caught fire at the Theodore C. Daniels home, 239 N. Washington St. Fire Chief Robert Hartman, at the truck fire, directed that the alarm be sounded to call additional firemen for the N. Washington St. blaze.

WILL DISPLAY WAR EXHIBITS HERE IN JULY

The Gettysburg Centennial Commission announced today the U.S. Army's award-winning Civil War exhibits will be on display at the Gettysburg Junior High School during the July 1-4 commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

One is the U.S. Army Civil War Centennial "Island," an indoor display designed as a tribute to the American fighting men of 100 years ago and the traditions of gallantry and resolution they passed on to today's soldiers. The Army said the exhibit portrays highlights of the conflict by means of a remarkable changing eight-phase three-dimensional diorama. It also utilizes a motion picture, animated orthoramas and other graphic media which provide the viewer with a complete, capsule history of the Civil War.

The other is the Army's Civil War Centennial van. This is an outdoor, expandable trailer depicting the military significance of the War Between the States. This exhibit features famous events of the conflict through a three-dimensional diorama. Highlights of the exhibits are areas on famous battles, medical care and the role of women and children in the war.

Space for the exhibits in the junior high school gymnasium is being provided to the commission by the Gettysburg Joint School Board.

Driver Unhurt When Car Upsets

An automobile operated by Robert Charles Neiderer, 16, Hanover R. 4, went out of control, knocked down a stop sign, rolled over and came to rest on top of a fence Tuesday about 6:55 p.m. near the intersection of the McSherrytown-Edge Grove road and Irishtown road, Conewago Township police reported.

Police said the sedan, traveling north on the McSherrytown-Edge Grove road, went out of control as Neiderer applied the brakes to stop for a stop sign at the intersection. The automobile halted atop a fence on the property occupied by Thomas Devine. Police said estimated damage to the sedan was $600 and to the fence $75. Police said Neiderer was uninjured.

Say Youth Fired Air Rifle At Girls

Lester Bonawitz, 19, Gardners R. 1, was charged Wednesday evening before Justice of the Peace Elva R. Group, Gardners, with shooting an air rifle from an automobile at two young girls walking along the highway. He was released on $20 bail for his appearance this evening for continuation of the hearing.

The charge was brought by Ralph F. Schaeffer, Gardners R. 1, on behalf of his daughters, aged 12 and 14 years. The girls were walking along the Idaville-York Springs Rd. Sunday afternoon and Bonawitz, a passenger in a passing automobile, is alleged to have discharged the weapon directly at the girls, barely missing them. Schaeffer said he saw the incident. Bonawitz has been asked by Mrs. Group to produce the weapon at this evening's hearing for the purpose of determining if the rifle is capable of discharging a pellet.

$3,711 GIVEN TO BOY SCOUT FINANCE PLEA

Donations to the Black Walnut Boy Scout District in its current campaign for $6,000 now total $3,711.75, Charles C. Kingston, general finance chairman, announced today.

In a letter to the chairmen and solicitors Kingston said the special gifts division has raised $1,680, and the general solicitation has secured $2,031.75. Two of the communities in the campaign have completed their portion of the drive. In the Idaville-Gardners area, where Gene Motter was chairman, donations totaled $183, or an increase of 41.9 per cent over the $129 given last year. Glenn Musselman was Knightstown area where $104.50 was donated, compared to $99.35 last year.

OTHER DONATIONS

Several communities exceeded last year's total and have not yet completed their solicitation. They include Aspers, which with donations of $174 so far is already 68.9 per cent over last year's total; Bonneauville, which has raised $65 as compared to $5 last year and Two Taverns which has $25.25 so far compared to $5 last year.

Other areas and the amounts collected so far include Arendtsville, $325.50; Bendersville, $72; Biglerville, $114.50; Buchanan Valley, none; Fairfield - Fountaindale, $100; Heidlersburg, $85; Hunterstown, $12; Littlestown, $640; Mummasburg, $10; Orrtanna, $60; York Springs, $40.

The campaign is being carried on only in the areas of the district outside Gettysburg. Locally funds for the Scouts are raised through Community Chest.

OPTIMIST CLUB PLANS BICYCLE RODEO MAY 4

May 4 was set as the date for the annual bicycle rodeo at the meeting of the Optimist Club Wednesday evening at the Battle-ground Restaurant.

Edward Carbaugh was named chairman of the bike rodeo committee with Carroll Martin and Ronald Heiges as members.

William DeHaas reported the firemen have given the club permission to operate a dart game at the carnival on Recreation Field this July.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers: President, William Sentz and Leroy Angell; vice president, Clyde Williams and Edward Carbaugh; secretary, Carroll Martin and William DeHaas; treasurer, Ronald Heiges and Melvin Crouse; sergeant-at-arms, Ned Crouse and Ira Ambrose; financial secretary, Richard Cline and Frank Forrey.

TO ELECT APRIL 3

The election will take place April 3.

William Sentz showed slides of hunting expeditions to Gillette, Wyo., and scenes of the Badlands of South Dakota and other points of interest in the midwest.

Plans were discussed for a Zone 9 ladies' night banquet to be held June 8 at the Gettysburg College dining hall. Zone 9 is made up of the Optimist Clubs of York and Adams Counties.

Plans were made for the local club to go to York March 28 to make its third quarter visitation with the West York Optimist Club.

ADULT EVENING CLASSES NEAR CLOSE AT GHS

Adult evening classes at Gettysburg High School are in process of closing the second semester session which began last January 14 and 88 per cent of the persons enrolled are expected to qualify for certificates at the final sessions of their respective classes. Director Jack R. Corbin said approximately 150 students will receive the certificates of achievement from their instructors. The certificates are awarded to students who have fulfilled class attendance and course requirements.

All of the courses will be concluded by next Thursday. Last Thursday marked the end of the shorthand and typing classes. This evening the courses in electricity, sewing and oil painting end. On Monday a first course in conversational Spanish was concluded and all of the students enrolled expressed a desire to continue in a follow-up advanced course in the fall semester. Mrs. Irma Coradetti has been and will continue to be the instructor for the Spanish courses.

RESUME IN OCTOBER

On March 27 the music workshop will conclude and next Thursday will be the final session of the course on the Battle of Gettysburg.

The students of the adult oil painting class will exhibit their paintings in the cafeteria of the senior high school this evening from 8:30 to 10 o'clock. All night school students and other interested persons are invited to see this display and meet the artists and their instructor, Mrs. Betty Hinckley.

October 7 has been announced tentatively as the date for the opening of the first semester of adult evening classes next fall.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Jay Rodney Crouse, Gettysburg R. 6, is seeking a divorce from Lois Ann (Feaser) Crouse, 143 Lumber St., Littlestown, according to a petition filed for Crouse in the probatory office by Atty. Donald M. Swope. The couple wed August 12, 1956, at Littlestown. Desertion since December 1, 1960, is alleged.

Winter Was Coldest Here In 45 Years

Spring's arrival early this morning rang down the curtain on Adams County's coldest winter in 45 years.

It was the coldest winter here since the memorable winter of 1917-18 which holds the all-time record for frigid weather here. The winter just ended is the third coldest in local weather annals, Gettysburg Times records show. Second honors are held by the winter of 1903-04, the first winter for which complete weather records are available here.

NO SNOW RECORDS

Based on the three winter months of December, January and February, the winter just ended had an average temperature of 26.01 degrees which was more than six degrees below the 61-year average here.

The record winter of 1917-18 had an average of 25 degrees and the figure for 1903-04 was 25.73 degrees.

Mrs. Milton Snyder Dies On Wednesday

Mrs. Emma E. Snyder, 94, widow of Milton E. Snyder, formerly of Two Taverns, died at the Homewood Church Home in Hanover Wednesday evening at 8:10 o'clock. She had been a guest there for the last year and a half.

Mrs. Snyder was a daughter of the late Melchior and Rebecca (Bloom) Slinghoff. Her husband died February 25, 1960. The deceased was a member of St. Mark's United Church of Christ, near Gettysburg.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Little Funeral Home in Littlestown with her pastor, the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, officiating. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. Friends may call Friday evening at the funeral home.

H. S. CROMER DIES AT 84 ON WEDNESDAY

Harvey S. Cromer, 84, 120 York St., died Wednesday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the Warner Hospital where he had been admitted Tuesday. He had been in declining health for some years.

A native of Gettysburg, he was a son of the late Franklin and Mary (Sharretts) Cromer. He retired from farming in 1926 and had been engaged also in the coal and butcher business.

He was a member of St. James Lutheran Church here and of the local Moose lodge.

His wife, the former Daisy Rhoads, died in 1957. Surviving are these children: Cleason Cromer, Carlisle; Mrs. Elmer Snyder, Gettysburg; Raymond Cromer, Hanover; George Cromer, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Richard Smith, Gettysburg; Mrs. Allen Dubbs, Gettysburg and Lloyd Cromer, Gettysburg R. 1. Also surviving are 15 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. Dr. Paul Reaser officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

Report At Least 400 Are Killed In Eruptions Of Volcano On Bali Island

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Bali island's rampaging Agung volcano has killed at least 400 persons, a spokesman for the Indonesian civil defense organization said today.

The spokesman said there was an increasing threat of more violent eruptions from the 10,308-foot volcano in northeast Bali.

President Sukarno had declared the tourist-mecca island a disaster zone.

It was not clear immediately whether the increased death toll was due to new eruptions. Previously, officials had put the death toll at 150 or more.

125 ARE INJURED

A Red Cross source said latest reports listed 125 known injured. In view of the jump in the death toll, the number of injured also was expected to rise sharply. The volcano erupted briefly Feb. 19, killing 17 persons, then lapsed into a lull. Last Sunday it began spewing out rock and lava. The civil defense spokesman (Continued On Page 14)

NO DECISION ON FUTURE OF "TOWN HOUSE"

The borough council is considering a "municipal building" providing more space for firemen, police and borough officials, and some meeting rooms, rather than a "community building," which would be more ambitious in scope. Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell said Wednesday evening at a public hearing held by his committee at the engine house.

Hartzell's comments came in response to a question asked by Kenneth Johns, Steinwehr Ave., who said he was appearing as a private citizen and not as a member of the borough's planning commission. "There is some confusion among the people as to whether council is considering a large fire house, a municipal building for borough offices, or a community building," Johns said.

CITE U.S. FUNDS

Councilman Rebecca Schwenk said the confusion "probably arose" from the fact that in January a group was before council to suggest construction of a large "community" building. As a result of that session, according to Mrs. Schwenk, it was learned that federal funds are available for a municipal building and council considered enlargement of the present site to provide more space.

Hartzell said he favored the present site for a municipal building. Mayor William G. Weaver pointed out that what is contemplated for the present building is (Continued On Page 14)

WILL PRESENT OPERETTA AT GHS 2 NIGHTS

"The Guy from Venus" will be presented by Gettysburg Area High School, March 29 and 30 at 8 p.m. in the junior high school auditorium.

The operetta opens when the handsome "Guy from Venus," portrayed by Lloyd Gilbert, arrives on earth for a closer study of its inhabitants. Under the name Don Starr, he takes a job at Stacey's, a department store in a typical town, and promptly falls in love with Linda Stacey, the new owner of the store, played by Nancy Bon.

Linda Simpson, portraying Rolanda, Don's superior and chief of the Venusian Interplanetary Investigation Committee, comes looking for him. Rolanda is invisible to everyone but Don and the audience, thus producing some hilarious situations. Don pleads to stay on earth to help Linda but, fearful of his involvement with "a dangerous earth creature" (Continued On Page 14)

MRS. ODBERT, ARENDSVILLE, DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Isabel Odbert, wife of Ivan H. Odbert, died suddenly Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock while visiting at the home of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gilbert in Arendtsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Odbert had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, across the street from their home, to play cards when Mrs. Odbert, who had been under a physician's care since 1955 for a heart condition, was stricken and died.

A native of Belle Vernon, Pa., she was a daughter of the late Charles and Nancy (Henderson) Miller. She and her husband had resided on a farm near York Springs for a number of years before moving to Arendtsville about three years ago.

Surviving in addition to the husband are these children: Ivan H. Odbert Jr., Silver Spring, Md.; Archie M. Odbert, Tampa, Fla.; Francis E. Odbert, U.S. Army, Fort Riley, Kan., and Mrs. Paul Little, Gettysburg, and a son to a prior marriage, Charles Miller, Belle Vernon.

Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and two brothers, Joseph Miller and Hildren Miller, both of Belle Vernon. Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. W. William Kern officiating. Interment in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens. Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

Littlestown Boys Accused Of Theft

A shirt and a pair of trousers, with total value of $6.34, were recovered by Hanover police from two Littlestown boys, aged 14 and 15, after police received a call from the Colonial Fair discount store, Hanover, Tuesday evening. The boys were accused of having stolen them.

Police said the store manager, Ray Henry, told them one boy was caught in the act of stuffing a shirt into his trousers and the other boy was found to have a pair of trousers beneath the pair he was wearing. The boys were escorted to police headquarters until they were given into the custody of their parents pending investigation by York County juvenile authorities.

DECRIES LACK OF LEADERSHIP ON BIG ISSUES

"One of the greatest obstacles facing county and community planners in meeting the needs for comprehensive expansion is the lack of adequate political leadership of borough council and the county commissioners."

These charges were made Wednesday evening by representatives of planning groups who have been studying area needs for social and physical expansion to meet demands of a rapidly growing population before approximately 40 members of the AAUW who met in the YWCA.

F. Stanley Hoffman, a member of the Gettysburg Borough Planning Commission for the past six years, said that his group has "recommended at least a dozen major changes to borough council" for the improvement of the borough "but not one single thing has been adopted." He said that "it is a frustrating experience to serve on a planning commission," due to the lack of interest on the part of some council members.

NO COMMITMENT

He said the commission was given a budget for study of traffic conditions, streets, building and other phases of borough planning "but we are unable to get any commitment from council" on recommendations. "They neither oppose nor approve," he said, and added that "until adequate political leadership is provided nothing will be done to meet the needs of the borough."

"Public apathy is too widespread for citizens to complain to council," he said, "but you control council and, unless you make (Continued On Page 3)

The first session of the Prayer Retreat being held at St. James Lutheran Church was held at 2 p.m. today with Mrs. Ruth Wyatt Robinson, past president of the Virginia Council of Church Women, as leader in the Maude Miller room. The second session at 7:30 this evening will be held in the social hall. The retreat is open to the public.

The following from the local Soroptimist Club, Mrs. H. W. Baker, vice president, Mrs. Donald Carver, Miss Jane Stallsmith, Mrs. Estelle Williams, Mrs. Anna Bieker, Mrs. William Shoemaker and Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, attended the 17th anniversary dinner of the Carlisle club Tuesday evening at Carlisle.

The VFW Auxiliary met at the Post Home Wednesday evening. Mrs. Pauline Mumper, president, presided. Mrs. Dorothy Pinko reported on the recent meeting of the Women's Civic Council. Miss Beulah Furney reported on the 21st District meeting held in York recently. The door prize was won by Mrs. Mary Lazos and the pig-in-the-poke by Miss Furney. Thirteen members were present.

The monthly business meeting of the Soroptimist Club will be held Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the REA building. The board of directors will meet at 7 p.m. Hostesses for the coffee hour will be Miss Martha Stallsmith, Mrs. Estelle Williams, Mrs. Harvey Warner and Mrs. Mares Sherman.

The NCCW parish council will meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock in Xavier Hall. Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, Littlestown, president of the Conewago Deanery Council, will speak on the national convention which she attended.

Members of the Warner Hospital Auxiliary are asked to note that due to the quarantine still in effect at the Adams County Home the meeting scheduled to be held there Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be held instead in the cafeteria dining room. Dr. C. P. Keefer, retired supervising principal of the Adams County schools and chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter, will speak. Members of the Soroptimist Club will serve as hostesses for the coffee hour.

The One Great Hour of Sharing will be observed by all Protestant churches according to their custom on Sunday. Each church has been given a fund quota.

Lenten Thought For Today

There is a real relationship between discipleship and the cross. In fact, perhaps discipleship is definable only by its accompanying cross. To be identified as a disciple of Jesus Christ is still an acceptable identification but, with all our labor saving devices and numerous "easy lessons" we have all but considered the cross as without value. There is still no substitute for the cross; at least God did not have any.

The words which Jesus spoke at a Sunday luncheon are immortal (Luke 14:16-20). Some people still are too much involved in the conditions of their business to give serious consideration to their own condition. How dare a man ask you to give time to your fellowman when you've spent all you have on your business. Family conditions still do not allow many to become too much involved with this Jesus Christ.

In the meantime, it is still the cross which identifies discipleship. Selfless love still spells a cross.

The National Players will appear in William Shakespeare's "Othello" Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in DePaul Auditorium, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg. Their presentation is described as "a dramatic triumph in the power of telling a simple story with stirring force." A donation of $1.50 will be accepted from those who wish to attend.

The Rev. Dr. Robert W. Koons, Springs Ave., pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, is convalescing at his home from pneumonia. He has been ill for the past week and will not be able to fill his pulpit Sunday.

In a recent announcement of the Gettysburg Garden's Club's four-week flower arrangement workshop to be held at the YWCA in April, the date of the second meeting was incorrectly given as April 20. The correct date is April 28. The topic will be "Principles of Design." Members who ex-register with Mrs. Frank Bruner before April 1.

Engagement

MISS POOLE

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Poole, Gettysburg R. 3, announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence Loretto to A. C. Samuel Paul McMaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMaster, Gettysburg R. 5.

Miss Poole is a senior at Gettysburg Area High School. Mr. McMaster is a 1961 graduate of Delone Catholic High School and is serving in the United States Air Force.

A fall wedding is planned.

MUSSELMAN WINS HONOR

Sterling Musselman, 32 E. Broadway, was honored at an awards banquet for Nationwide Insurance representatives at the Chalet Restaurant, Dillsburg, Wednesday evening.

Musselman was designated as "man of the year" for 1962 in the Harrisburg sales region. The award is given for the highest amount of insurance production in all lines of business on a point basis. He was also honored as the top producer of fire insurance in the sales region and was among the leaders in sale of mutual funds.

He also won a Nationwide service award for eastern Pennsylvania which is given for good service to policyholders and for service in community projects. He is a member of the company's "Challenge Club" and has qualified for membership in the Presidents' Club, a top company award he has received three times in the last five years.

Clarence M. King, salesman in the Littlestown area, was honored as a member of the company's "Challenge Club" and Melvin E. Prosser, York Springs, was honored as a leader in the sales of mutual funds.

The Nationwide sales force in this county is under the supervision of Jennings B. Collins, district sales manager, who also attended the awards dinner with his wife. Also attending were Mrs. Musselman, Mrs. King and Mrs. Prosser. Approximately 250 agents and their wives attended.

INSPECT SCHOOLS

Gettysburg fire and borough officials conducted the annual spring inspection of public schools this morning. They will inspect St. Xavier school and the former High Street school at a later date. Participating in the inspection were Fire Marshal Donald Jacobs, Fire Chiefs Robert Hartman, Charles J. Kerrigan, Robert Hefflin, Police Sgt. Dan Miller, Fireman Edith Smith Jr., and Charles Kuhn, building inspector. Superintendent of school custodians Richard Tackett assisted in the inspections.

SALESMEN OUSTED

Borough police Wednesday evening ordered James Clarke, Pasadena, Calif., and four female magazine solicitors out of town after residents of E. Lincoln Ave. and W. Middle St. complained to police they "they were persistent and annoying." Clarke had been given permission to solicit the borough earlier in the day for "periodical sales."

Friends may call at the funeral home in McSherrystown Friday evening with the Rosary to be recited there Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Military Services For E. J. Myers

Funeral services for Edward John Myers, 73, 322 W. Middle St., who died Sunday morning at the Warner Hospital were held Wednesday afternoon from the Peters Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with Rev. Donald Treese officiating. There were military rites at the grave.

Interment in the World War I veteran was in the National Cemetery here. Pallbearers, all from the American Legion, were Charles Rupp, Edgar Bowling, Richard Fox, Robert E. Fox, Donald Hershel and Edward Pittenturf. Members of the firing squad, from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, were William Chamberlain, Robert Smith, Charles Moser and John Rummel. The color guards and flag bearers from the VFW were John E. Kerrigan, Dale Smith, John Maskowski and Robert Swisher. Robert Hay was the bugler.

Continues Ban On Visitors At Home

The ban on visitors to the Adams County Home will continue to March 30, Dr. C. G. Crist, physician for the county home said today.

While holding that he and other officials of the county home regret the necessity of banning all visitation for a period that will encompass the entire month of March, Dr. Crist said the ban has proved effective in preventing the introduction into the home of the "flu-like" disease which was prevalent in the county during the month. Officials feared that had the disease started there most of the guests would have suffered from the illness. Because of the decline in the numbers suffering from the illness throughout the county the officials have decided to lift the ban at the end of the month.

Youth Arrested In Assault Case

Ray E. Millhimes, 20, Biglerville R. 2, was placed in the county jail Wednesday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery after he was picked up by Hanover police on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. The charge was brought by Thomas George, Gettysburg shoe repair shop proprietor, Chambersburg St., who said that Millhimes pushed him through a glass display case in his shop on March 8. A hearing before Snyder is scheduled for this afternoon.

TO CHARGE 3 FOR ROBENA MINE DISASTER

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Charges will be filed against at least three men for violations of the state mining code in connection with an explosion that killed 37 men at U. S. Steel Corp.'s Robena No. 3 Mine, says state officials.

Dist. Atty. Glenn Toothman of Greene County, the location of the mine, disclosed in a statement Wednesday that charges would be filed but he did not say specifically who would be charged.

However, H. Beecher Charnbury, secretary of mines, said following a meeting with former mines secretary, Lewis J. Evans, Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Ehrlich and other mines department officials in Harrisburg Wednesday:

THREE CITED

"We are all in agreement as to the specific charges against the three men mentioned in the report of the investigation of the blast."

Cited in the report for violations were Michael Wydo, superintendent of Robena No. 3; Marion Misiak, a mine foreman; and Albert Dillow, an assistant foreman.

Charnbury also said the three employees would be cited for mine code violations, but not for the deaths of miners killed in the blast.

He added that it was possible another man, an electrician, also may be cited. The man was not identified.

Thirty-seven miners were killed in the explosion in the Frosty Run shaft of the mine last Dec. 6.

DEATHS

Mrs. Michael F. Black, Mrs. Maye Black, 86, McConnellsburg, died Tuesday afternoon at her home following a short illness.

Born April 11, 1876, she was a daughter of the late John and Alice Wagner Glunt. She was a member of the McConnellsburg Lutheran Church. She and her husband, Michael F. Black, were married in 1900.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are two sons, John Black, McConnellsburg; Kenneth Black, Oklahoma City, Okla.; two daughters, Mrs. Elmira Ray, McConnellsburg; Mrs. Amy Taylor, Fayetteville; a brother, Charles Glunt, Biglerville, and a large number of grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m., at the Kelo Funeral Home, McConnellsburg, with the Rev. David R. Hoover, officiating. Burial will be made in Union Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Mrs. Horace A. Bostian

Mrs. Lottie Mary Bostian, 89, widow of Horace A. Bostian, died at 1:45 o'clock this morning at her home, Union Bridge R. 1, Md. She was a daughter of the late Lewis and Martha (Johnson) Biehl.

LIM BOARD PLANS ANNUAL LWC MEETING

Plans for the annual meeting of the Lutheran Welfare Council of Pennsylvania were announced at the meeting of the board of directors of the Lutheran Inner Mission in St. James Lutheran Church here Monday evening.

Dr. Harold Haas, executive secretary of the Board of Social Ministry, Lutheran Church in America, will speak on "The Role of the Church in Social Welfare" at the opening session Monday, April 22. At the Tuesday afternoon session the program will focus on the recommendations coming from the study of services to children done for the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare by the Fels Institute on State and Local Government, University of Pennsylvania. These meetings will be held at Allenberry with registration scheduled for 1 p.m. on the first day. The Rev. Glenn T. Hafer, Boiling Springs, vice president of the LIM board, was appointed to represent the board at these sessions. Mrs. Henry T. Bream, vice president of the council, and the LIM staff will be in charge of registration.

The Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, president of the LIM and host pastor, presided Monday and led the devotions preceding the business meeting. Others in attendance were Pastors Hafer, Robert O. Whitehead, Fayetteville; Maynard Barnhart, Ardentsville; John Alvin Groft, Littlestown; John Small, Fayetteville; David Houck, Ardentsville; Emanuel Gunnet, McKnightstown, and the staff, Mrs. Wysocki, Mrs. Wentzel, and Mrs. Bream.

TO DEVELOPE POLICY

Mr. Houck was appointed to the finance committee. The turnabout named Rev. E. P. Turnbach, Shippensburg, to serve as chairman of the nominating committee to submit a slate of five directors and officers to the board at the May meeting.

The social services committee chaired by Pastor Hafer was asked to formulate admissions policy for the proposed Lutheran Home. Pastor Barnhart reported a recent meeting of the committee planning for the construction of the home at which Miss Anne Goodman, Office of the Aging, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and Sister Betty Amstutz, synodical associate director of social ministry, were present. Miss Goodman spoke to the committee on present day concepts and major considerations in building such facilities and providing services to older persons, gearing them to their current needs and future program planning.

The board will see the filmstrip "What Happened to Hannah?" at the next meeting, illustrating the opportunities congregations have in carrying on a social ministry. The meeting will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Fayetteville, Monday, May 20, at 8 p.m. The annual meeting of the board of control is scheduled for June 17, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Carlisle.

The 50-50 Class of St. James Lutheran Church served refreshments to the board.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported today to be considering a visit to West Berlin on his trip to Europe next summer.

Authoritative sources said the State Department has advised the White House that the President should go to the Communist-encircled city after he visits Bonn, but no decision has been made.

According to tentative plans, Kennedy will go to Europe June 13-27.

He agreed first to visit Rome when Amintore Fanfani, the Italian prime minister, visited Washington last January. Subsequently it was announced that he will go also to Bonn, the West German capital.

Completes Course At Finance School

Pvt. James H. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Myers, 74 W. King St., Littlestown, recently completed a five-week finance procedures course at the Finance School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He was instructed in Army accounting techniques in both field and garrison duty.

The 18-year-old soldier entered the Army in October 1962 and received basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He was graduated from Littlestown High School in 1962 and was employed by the Carroll Shoe Company before entering the Army.

"FINDING YOURSELF"

Few people ever find themselves . . . this fact is sad but true . . . most labor for necessity . . . fate favors just a few . . . it matters not how hard some try . . . they never reach their goal . . . perhaps it all is written . . . on some godly scroll . . . for on the other hand I've known . . . people who are blessed . . . with talent that will help them gain . . . their chosen treasure chest . . . these are the truly lucky ones . . . who are doing what they choose . . . if flavored with humility . . . they seldom stand to lose . . . yet, in a larger sense none need . . . to stagnate on life's shelf . . . if you live life the right-eous way . . . then you will find yourself.

MUSIC HELPED MISS AMERICA EARN TITLE

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

"Tis said that music can soothe the savage breast, but it may even have a greater potential in developing beautiful women.

This year's Miss America, Jacquelyn Mayer, feels that music helped get her the beauty crown "that every girl dreams she'll wear some day."

The hazel-eyed, 115-pound brunette is 5 feet 5½ inches tall. She sings, plays the piano, organ, clarinet and bassoon. She explains:

"A musical instrument can help you develop poise, grace, patience, coordination, cooperation and team work. When you play in a band, you must make your own part good for everyone's sake. Recitals, concerts and duets require good posture and build stage presence. When you sit at a musical instrument, you have the urge to compose and it develops your imagination."

TOURED WITH WARING

Jackie took piano lessons from her mother, a junior high school music teacher. She learned to play the clarinet in the Sandusky, Ohio, High School Band, and taught herself the bassoon by renting it from the high school. She also took piano lessons in Austria when she was an exchange student in her senior year. After a year at Northwestern University where she studied speech, she went on tour singing with Fred Waring's band, learning a great deal about audience appeal and "enjoying the wonderful experience of working for a great musician," she says.

She did a skit as her contribution to the talent bit in the Miss America contest.

"Experiencing high school talent shows is a good way to enhance a musical career. I was always in the school choir as an alto or second soprano and I plan to major in music when I return to Northwestern to finish my education," she explains. She was awarded a $10,000 college scholarship with her title.

TOOK OVER CLASSES

Jackie's musical home did a great deal for her she says. "We were always hearing music around the house. Mother exposed us to it to create the desire. She didn't force it on us. My sister and two brothers play and my sister and I take over Mom's private piano lessons when she has been away. When I was little Mom's music business was small, but it is amazing how it has grown and how many little 5 and 6-year-old youngsters want to learn how to play the piano."

The Austrian family with whom she lived and boys she dated there weren't surprised that she won the Miss America title, she says. They kept writing her that she would win.

LOVE NO WORRY

Do boys like girls who are beautiful but dumb, instead of the more talented types?

"Guys want a girl who has some kind of talent whether it be music or something else. You just can't win on looks alone," she says.

Although Jackie has lots of beaux, she isn't worried if she falls in love with someone who isn't musically inclined. She can always fall back on some old-fashioned boy bait.

"I just love to sew, knit, embroider, cook and housekeep," she says.

FRIDAY LAST DAY TO VOTE ON FEED GRAIN

Friday will be the last day on which county farmers may sign to take part in the 1963 Feed Grain program, J. Glenn Miller, manager of the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services office, said today.

So far 476 county producers of feed grains have signed to take part in the program.

Miller said there are four advantages to farmers who sign: Price support will be available on the 1963 production of corn, grain sorghum and barley; a substantial income will be assured from the acres diverted regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail or crop disease; price support payment on the established yield of the planted acreage is assured, and an advance payment of part of the diversion payment will be made, on request of the participant, at the time of signing or as soon as possible afterward.

A grower participating in the feed grain program, Miller explained will reduce his acreage of corn, grain sorghum and barley by at least 20 per cent of his farm's feed grain base acreage and will devote the diverted acreage to conservation uses.

He noted that "the first step necessary is the signing of the intention to participate certificate at the county ASC office in the Adams Electric Cooperative Building, rear of N. Stratton St. and the signing must take place by Friday."

WOMEN PLACE NEW VALUES ON FURNISHINGS

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new sense of values in home furnishing, which has little to do with status symbols or the old-fashioned Keep-Up-with-Jones routine, is upgrading the American standard of living.

This conclusion was reached by home specialists who spoke at a conference held by the Cooperative Extension Service. The women in attendance are associated with the land grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Many people in my state believe they owe it to their children to have a nice home," said Rosa Johnston, University of Massachusetts.

Observed Inez Lovelace, University of Tennessee, "The amazing thing is the new sense of values. Young people have learned to let entire rooms go unfurnished until they can afford to have good things and rather than will them up with a lot of cheap things."

SPEAKER COMMENTS

A guest speaker, designed Jens Risom, applauded this new attitude, emphasizing that good design and good quality almost always go together.

He also added that a room's personality comes from its accessories but Grace Kampen, University of California, lamented that manufacturers are not producing the kind that should enable a homemaker to exercise her imagination.

"The average department store carries stereotyped junk," she complained. "We teach good lighting, but then all you see are 8-foot lamps. The average small room doesn't have a place for decorative lamps. I use a flashlight to turn on my own thermostat."

Miss Kampen feels too that there is too much stress on what is "in" and "out" in home furnishings.

"Wall-to-wall carpet may be out in some areas. But it is the perfect solution to California concrete slab floors. It's the house and situation that determines whether something is right."

CLIMATE VITAL

Climate is another factor. "We live outdoors all the year round," said Vera Y. Reid, of the University of Hawaii, "so that the lanai is the area that we are most concerned with. We are most interested in dressing up window walls more than walls. We also need more good lighting arrangements."

People are exposed to more decorating information, but there is always a lack of knowledge in many areas because things change so rapidly, pointed out Evelyn Harley, University of Connecticut.

But some thinks, like color really do not change, declared another guest speaker, Dorothy Liebes, textile designer.

"It is the way it is used that is different. There is no such thing as bad color, just bad color combinations."

Miss Liebes also said that a better choice of fabrics is available "now that we use good artists rather than Sunday painters who are broke."

Revise Spelling Bees For Persons Over 55; To Choose State Champ

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Just how well can grandma and grandpa spell?

Some indication will come March 30 at Pennsylvania's first Senior Citizens' Spelling Championship open to persons who have reached their 55th birthday by March 1 and who are members of clubs.

"Spelling bees were very popular back in grandma's days, quite an activity," explained Albert F. Reese, director of the sponsoring Lancaster Recreation Commission.

CITE PURPOSES

"The purpose," continued Reese "is to provide some wholesome activities for our senior citizens, to help them in their own confidence, and to impress upon the general public the importance of correct spelling and word usage."

Today at 4 p.m. is the deadline for entering the contest. So far only 10 clubs out of 246 who were sent notices have entered. Reese hopes for a few more, but isn't discouraged by the small response.

"It may be the weather," he said. "We've had suggestions that we hold it in the latter part of April or the first of May, so the weather would be better."

Each club participating held its own spelling championship and will send the winner and runner-up to the state contest.

That means a total of 20 persons competing so far.

The state contest, said Reese, was the outgrowth of the commission's Happy Hour Club here which held a contest on Jan. 29.

"They loved the idea," said Reese. "They loved to participate and meet people."

THEY'RE PRETTY GOOD

Words used will be selected from the "Words of the Champions" book and from Webster's New International Dictionary, second edition. The winner will receive a trophy and a $25 savings bond.

If Mae Eckman, a local woman, is any indication, grandma can spell pretty well, according to Reese.

"We couldn't find a word she couldn't spell," said Reese.

Reese said two clubs have entered from Philadelphia and one each from Lancaster, Royersford, Springfield, Williamsport, Sayre, Carlisle, Baden, and York, all in Pennsylvania.

TO PLANT 2 TREES At Courthouse

The Adams County commissioners Wednesday afternoon voted to plant two trees in front of the courthouse in keeping with the Campaign Gettysburg program to plant trees along the main streets of the town.

At the same time the commissioners voted to remove a tree growing over the sidewalk from the lawn at the northeast corner of the courthouse. Removal of that tree was decided upon to permit landscaping of the lawn after painting of woodwork of the courthouse this spring. Advertisements for bids for the painting contract were prepared Wednesday and will be printed in the near future.

Approval for the planting of two trees and removal of one was granted by the Gettysburg Shade Tree Commission, the commissioners said.

known your feelings, council will never act." He urged greater public interest in local affairs of zoning and planning and said "you must let your public officials know how you stand on these issues."

He said the commission's studies indicated three major needs.

"Gettysburg needs a borough manager, we must have new state legislation that provides for a planning body with legal voice and there is an immediate need for planning and zoning in Gettysburg."

ASKS COORDINATION

Hoffman said that he believes that commissions cannot act satisfactorily within certain community boundaries.

"Any successful plan in this area must be coordinated with adjacent townships and boroughs because of overlapping of interests and populations," he explained. He foresees a need for a commission to study the entire county as one unit "and eventually this will have to include adjacent counties." He said that nearby communities that have faced the problems of expansion attract local people to their shopping areas, recreational facilities, and housing advantages.

Frank S. Zettle, Adams County farm agent, reported on the findings of study groups working with Pennsylvania State University's pilot program to determine the needs of 12 areas in the nation. Adams County was one of the areas designated by PSU for the two-year study to alert residents of Adams County to the need for comprehensive planning.

FOREMOST NEEDS

"A tremendous educational job needs to be done to make the public aware of the needs of their community," he said. "We must have the right political climate to make these needs a reality, he added.

Foremost in the needs indicated by the county studies were concerns for "land use, water, population, youth, tourism, education, recreation, public transportation and taxation."

He said that competition between agriculture and private enterprise is of major concern to the group. "Some of our best farm land is being used for housing and industry," he said.

"NEED POOL"

Mrs. G. Donald Wickerham, representing the recreation association, said that, as the result of recent interests of numerous groups in the construction of a public swimming pool, Recreation Board members have been studying all phases of the problem. She said, "All of the groups studying the situation have come to the conclusion that there is a definite need for a public pool; it should be a large outdoor pool, and should be financed through the local borough government."

She said that tentative estimates for the construction of "an Olympic-sized pool, or larger," are $100,000 for "pool, fences, bath houses, lighting and snack bar, although we have no exact figure to date."

"At the present time, half of this could be financed through federal funds," she explained, "if a responsible body would commit itself to financing the remaining 50 per cent of the cost." She said that borough council "has the money for such a venture, but they may not want to spend it for a pool. They are interested now in a firehouse."

She said "there is no need to raise taxes to support or build a pool," and added that a "minimum admission fee" could more than adequately provide the estimated $12,000 necessary for the operation, maintenance and supervision of a large outdoor pool for the summer months.

Mrs. Wickerham emphasized the need for public expression if the borough is to have a public pool. "Gettysburg can have a public pool if the people want it and say they want it," she declared.

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, representing the YWCA Advisory Board, reported on the findings of the group's study committee concerning the need for additional community facilities. He said that extensive studies by various committees concluded that res-

Bermudian High Class Gives Play

"They Gave Him a Co-ed," to be presented as the annual Junior Class production at Bermudian Springs High School on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock, is a three-act comedy of college life and youth.

The story is set in the lounge room in a college assembly building. The topic of the hour is the new dean, Charles Bradley Brown, played by Joe Wolf, whose arrival is momentarily expected.

At this point in pops a new student played by James Menges with the coincidental name of Dean Brown. He's a plain, unvarnished American boy, simply unimpressed by his many educational shortcomings, yet frank and breezy as youth can be. His name electrifies the group of students and then the fun begins.

Dean is assigned one of the girls played by Donna Roemer as his secretary. The registrar, Dorale Starner, persists in giving dean an advance on his salary.

When the real dean comes along he's mistakenly thought to be an escaped lunatic. Even when the dean clears himself, the comedy continues until a couple of other mysterious strangers are brought to bay.

possibility for a public swimming pool rests with the Recreation Board, and that community facilities are available at the high schools and the college to take care of large group meetings.

He said reactions of the various groups concerned with recreational and community needs favored the recreation field as the logical location for a center, where 57 acres are available for expansion.

ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, who arranged the panel discussion in connection with the study of "Megapolis" being made by AAUW in the county, urged members to "ask candidates for public office how they feel about these issues" and recommended the support of "those who have constructive views" about planning and meeting the needs of our communities.

At a business meeting following the program Mrs. Arthur Boenau was elected first vice president to succeed Mrs. Butterfield; Mrs. Donald B. Hudson, second vice president, to replace Mrs. James Sheen, and Mrs. Chan Coulter, recording secretary, to replace Mrs. Robert A. MacAskill.

Mrs. William M. Lott president, and Mrs. Harold Dunkelberger will attend the state convention of AAUW in Altoona April 25-27 as delegates from the local chapter.

FIREMEN GIVE JUDGE PLAQUE

Associate Judge Clarence D. Deardorff was presented Tuesday night with a plaque marking his 20 years of service as secretary of the Cashtown Community Fire Department.

The county associate judge who asked to be relieved of his duties as secretary of the firemen after two decades of service. At the election Glenn Herring was named to succeed him. John W. Bream Jr. was re-elected president, Kenneth Kuhn vice president, Arthur Wetzel was named to his ninth year as treasurer, Owen Bucher to his 13th year as fire chief, William Single, was named first assistant chief, Eugene Kane second assistant chief, Kenneth Mickle, chaplain and George White, Robert Lentz and Floyd Cook, trustees.

President Bream presented the plaque on behalf of the fire department at Tuesday's meeting of the firemen and noted that Judge Deardorff in addition to his long service as secretary of the firemen has also served as chaplain of the Ira Lady American Legion post, as president of the Adams County Historical Society and as chaplain of the Adams County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

TWENTY YEARS AGO

C. A. Williams, 72, Postmaster
Mere Nine Years, Dies: Charles A. Williams, 72, Gettysburg's postmaster for the last nine years and one of the town's best known citizens, died suddenly this morning at 1:15 o'clock at his home, 42 Hanover street.

He was stricken a few hours after he had retired in apparently usual health. A physician was summoned but death had occurred almost instantly. Dr. C. G. Crist, the county coroner, listed coronary embolism as the cause.

A wide circle of friends here was shocked to learn of the death of Mr. Williams who had a broad acquaintance in business, political and fraternal groups. He was a veteran of the Spanish American war and belonged to several veterans' organizations here.

Mr. Williams' death came 16 days before he would have retired as postmaster after nine years and nine months in office. In December 24 of last year, he announced his intention of retiring March 31.

By a strange coincidence, this evening had been selected by local postal employees for a testimonial banquet honoring their retiring chief who always was popular with the members of the postal service here.

More than 50 reservations had been made for the banquet which was to be held at the Battlefield hotel. Present employees and retired employees who had served under Mr. Williams planned to attend with their wives. Plans for the affair were cancelled this morning, it was announced by George P. Black, assistant postmaster during all of Mr. Williams' term and now the acting postmaster.

50 Coeds To Be Moved To James Gettys: Fifty Gettysburg college coeds will be evacuated from Huber Hall, Women's Division building on the campus, to the James Gettys hotel and eleven will be transferred to Stevens hall, adjacent to Huber Hall.

Transfer of the coeds to quarters off the campus is being done to take care of the next contingent of Army Air Corps students expected here about April 1st. More than 250 are expected to comprise the next group of students to be assigned to the Aircrew Training Detachment here.

Coeds moving to the James Gettys will occupy the third floor part of the second and several additional larger rooms which will accommodate as many as four girls.

The coeds will have their choice of rooms at the James Gettys based in accordance with the amount each is now paying for a room in Huber hall or in the traditional manner of seniority rights. The same rules that applied at Huber hall will apply at the hotel. The girls will adhere to the same hours and the lobby may be used for "dates." Room service will be available, it was announced at the college.

The transfer will be completed by March 25.

Oyler Assumes New Position. Lawrence E. Oyler, Baltimore street, this morning assumed the duties of acting postmaster of the Gettysburg post office. A postal inspector was in Gettysburg Thursday checking the auditing of the post office accounts preparatory to turning over the office to the new appointee.

Mr. Oyler, former linotype operator and machinist at the Times and News Publishing company for the past 12 years, succeeds the late C. A. Williams who died suddenly last Monday morning and was buried Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Williams had announced his retirement from the office effective March 31st but his sudden death precipitated the earlier assumption of the office by Mr. Oyler. The latter's name was recommended to Senator Joseph F. Guffey who sent the

Today's Talk

TO WIN OR LOSE

It certainly is a waste of time devoting one's energies to trying to figure out whether one is to win or lose.

Everyone prefers winning to losing. No one disputes such a statement, for it is obvious. But still you will find people everywhere doubting their success, or else worrying about their losing.

The outcome of one's efforts on this earth should be to have done one's best. Few of us do. We waste our resources and gamble away our time. We use but a fraction of our abilities. We wonder why we are being passed all along the way. One reason is that we do not expect to win! Did you ever hear of a chap ever failing to get somewhere who made up his mind that he would get somewhere?

After all, winning is mostly a matter of choice and will.

Every time a person looks to another for aid in getting ahead, his own self-respect and his own power to win, shrink. Every time we take a step ahead we discover a new strength. When we shift a responsibility — and then fail — we have cheated not ourselves alone, but the one to whom we gave away our lack of courage and confidence.

Failing in one's bank account is not the greatest failure, but to have failed in one's heart!

Decide to win. That's the starting point. Expect to win. Then you are on your way. Waste no time and your strength will accumulate. Each new day will find you more a master of yourself. You can demonstrate to yourself that it is easier to win than it is to fail.

There is freshness to the face of the man who has already decided that he cannot fail. Every faculty of his mind and every fibre of his body tunes in, and all becomes a cooperative force which some call genius, but which the man himself defines as a plan and a purpose behind hard work.

The greatest word of encouragement to anyone is contained in these two words — You Can. A man proves his worth as he says to himself — I WILL!

STREET SCENE

I stand upon the corner
And I watch the people go,
And some are brave and smiling
And some are sad, I know.
The young have hope before them,
The old are bent with woes.

The shops have pretty windows

Through which the mothers stare
At lovely frocks and dresses
They wish their girls could wear.
(This is the curse of money!
So few have much to spare.)

The men are at their business,

Some toil with pick and spade,
Some work in marble buildings,
The skillful have a trade,
But out of human labor
All happiness is made.

Thus past life's busy corner

Go sunny smile and sigh;
Some selling gaudy trinkets,
Some hastening to buy.
The young with hope before them,
The old about to die.

OLIVER SEGUIN IS ELECTED AS PTA PRESIDENT

Oliver L. Seguin was elected president of the Littlestown Parent-Teacher Association, at the March meeting held by the PTA on Tuesday evening in the multi-purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School.

Others elected to office include: Ray T. Harner, first vice president; Herman Newman, second vice president; Mrs. Fred W. Hartlaub, secretary, and Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr., treasurer. The newly elected officers will be installed at the April session.

The meeting opened with the group singing of "America," accompanied by Mrs. Theresa Eshbach, followed with the pledge to the flag. Prayer was offered by the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ United Church of Christ. There were selections by the Sixth Grade chorus, with Mrs. Eshbach at the piano.

6TH GRADE WINS

Marvin F. Breighner, a past president of the unit, spoke in keeping with Founder's Day discussing the bylaws and constitution of PTA. He was introduced by Mrs. Robert W. Hall, co-chairman of the evening's program committee. Mrs. Paul F. Boller Jr., also a program co-chairman, presented her father-in-law, Paul F. Boller Sr., who addressed the audience on "Vacation Activities."

Mr. Boller is a past president of the Reisterstown Recreation Council, and talked about supervised play in the Baltimore area.

The business was in charge of President Sterling J. Wisotzky, who announced that a meeting of the Adams County Council of PTA will be held on Friday, March 22, in the York Springs Elementary School. Mrs. Hartlaub, secretary, and Mrs. Robert R. Reinaman, retiring treasurer, gave their reports. The following auditing committee was appointed: Lewis H. Fox, chairman, Mrs. George Shultz Jr. and Elven Chronister.

Frank E. Basehor, high school principal, extended an invitation to the public to attend the Senior Class play on Friday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, and the spring concert by the junior band and junior chorus on Saturday, March 30 in the school auditorium, at 8 p.m.

The evening's attendance award went to the Sixth Grade taught by Mrs. Margaret Lohr. At the conclusion of business, refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Sterner, Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Mrs. Earl A. Rebert, Mrs. Kenneth S. Ogg and Mrs. ohn Morehead.

DIES OF WOUND

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Supreme Court Judge Simon Kuper died Wednesday night of a gunshot wound in the head inflicted by an unknown assailant 12 days ago.

He was a leader in the South African Jewish community and was known in Israel for his work for Zionism. Police discount politics as a motive for the killing. Kuper was felled by a shot fired through a window of his home.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: ANNIVERSARY: Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, holds his 1,000th briefing for newsmen today.

The genial aide to President Kennedy first briefed newsmen on Jan. 21, 1961, a day after the inauguration of the chief executive.

COOLING OFF PERIOD: Despite the continuing New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes, the labor scene is cooling off, says the man who is the chief government watchdog in this field.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, told a reporter Wednesday that his agency was working for settlements in 84 strikes at the end of last week, "the lowest weekly total we've had in some time."

Simkin said that on the average last year his service was in on about 150 strikes at a given time. Beginning in January the number began to decline.

"But we've got our fingers crossed," Simkin said. "We've got some big ones coming up."

CHERRY TRESS: A capital parks official predicts Washington's famed cherry trees, delight of tourists and residents alike, will bloom between April 6 and 10. George W. Robey, assistant chief horticulturist for the National Capital Parks Service, said Wednesday the trees should burst into their annual pink and white glory about the time of the annual Cherry Blossom Festival scheduled for April 2-7.

FRINGE BENEFITS: House members would get some extra benefits under proposals approved by the House Administration Committee.

Among other things the bills, approved Wednesday and scheduled for consideration next week, would:

Allow members an additional $10,506 a year for office help and raise the salary ceiling for employees from $15,349 to $16,289.

Finance two extra trips home each year, at actual cost, in addition to the 20 cents a mile members now get for one round trip per session.

Furnish members three instead of two rent-free offices in their home bailiwick—if the space can be found in government buildings. Members would continue to get the $1,200 a year they now receive to rent such office space.

Give 12 Books To Local Commission

Twelve paperback books published by Fawcett Publications, Inc., have been presented to the Gettysburg Centennial Commission. A 13th, "Pickett's Charge" by George R. Stewart, will be added to the series in June.

Of particular interest to Gettysburg is "Decisive Battles of the Civil War," by Lt. Col. Joseph B. Mitchell, which includes maps of Civil War roads leading into Gettysburg in 1863 in their relation to present-day access.

The editions recently received include "General Lee," by Fitzhugh Lee; "Herndon's Life of Lincoln," by William H. Herndon and Jesse W. Weik; "I Rode With Stonewall," by Henry Kyd Douglas; "Our House Divided," by John B. WARNS ABOUT POSSIBILITY OF NEW TAXES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislators have been warned against getting complacent about the need for taxes in the current session.

House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson told the House Wednesday "There might be a tax program for you people to vote on."

He explained he was "just spreading an admonition not to get complacent that we can get through this session without having to vote on taxes."

House Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky said Democrats would not supply a vote to pass a tax that will "keep piling the tax burden on the backs of the wage earners."

He told Johnson Republicans should "bring out a tax program that is geared and based upon the ability to pay."

This was interpreted as a warning that there would be no Democratic votes for expanding the sales tax, although Petrosky declined to state this unequivocally later.

The tax discussion was only one sign of hardening partisan positions in the three-month-old session.

The discussion was all but ignored Wednesday, however, as debate in the House turned unexpectedly into a bitter wrangle over the personalities running the chamber.

BOTH IN RECESS

Neither house was in session today.

The Senate met for only 13 minutes Wednesday before adjourning for the week.

The House's plans to follow the Wednesday custom of meeting just long enough to move bills one day along the three-day legislative cycle were disrupted, however, by the partisan hassle.

At one point, Democrats started to walk out of the chamber as a sign of protest.

CROWD GATHERS

Word of the debate spreading around the Capitol attracted a large crowd of spectators. It was considered unusual to have such an acrimonious debate so early in the session.

Legislators and other observers said later they expected the 1963 session to be one of the most bitter in history and that Wednesday's debate was simply an early sign of the ill feeling smoldering below the surface.

A hardening of partisan positions would present a problem of strategy to the Republican leadership with its working majority of only three votes.

NARROW MARGIN

It takes 106 votes to pass legislation in the House; Republicans have 109 members. Normal absenteeism and illness would reduce that majority below the 106 votes from time to time leaving the GOP leadership with the alternative of postponing showdowns on controversial measures or else soliciting Democratic help.

In view of Wednesday's proceedings, there was a question how much help the Democrats may be willing to give in the future.

The debate centered around Speaker W. Stuart Helm, Kitting Republican, but also brought in parliamentarian S. Edward Moore and former Speaker H. G. Andrews, Johnstown Democrat.

CHIDE MAJORITY

Pennsylvania House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson says the legislature may be called up to vote on a new tax program during the current session. Minority Leader Anthony J. The accuracy of the state radar law is being questioned before the State Supreme Court. The attorney for a Donora man convicted of speeding last November says the accuracy of the radar is dubious. A Westmoreland County assistant district attorney says no instrument can be made accurate.

The district attorney of Greene County says he will file charges against at least three men in connection with the explosion that killed 37 miners at U.S. Steel Corp.'s Robena Mine last December. Glenn Toothman said the men will be charged with violations of the state mining code.

Sergeant Missile Works Well In Test

SAN NICOLAS ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — The new medium-range Sergeant missile was tested 21 times high in the New Mexico desert, but what the Army wanted to know was whether it would also work at sea level.

Wednesday, the Army said, it worked fine.

The Sergeant was lobbed 70 miles to a target on San Miguel Island in its first public firing at sea level. This was the second in a series of three test shots being conducted to see how the Sergeant withstands the corrosive salt-laden air and behaves in the more dense atmosphere at sea level.

Rep. Herbert Fineman, D-Phil., rose to charge Helm with unfairness and partisanship, and the daily discussion period—referred to by the legislators as "the happy hour"—became embittered.

Rep. Joshua Eilberg, chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic delegation, complained that Moore, parliamentarian since 1931 and a House employee since 1909, seemed too eager to prod Helm into ruling Democratic spokes out of order.

HELM DEFENDED

Johnson, defending Helm, declared that Andrews, the speaker the past four years, had been lax in enforcement of the rules.

The majority leader asked for a vote of confidence in Helm.

Fineman, protesting that Democrats did have confidence in Helm and felt a vote for the record would be an insult, called for his colleagues to walk off the floor rather than vote.

RECORD MISLEADING

A mass exodus was interrupted by Johnson's decision to withdraw his motion.

Democrats returned, tempers cooled and Fineman spread further balm by moving that all personal remarks be expunged from the record.

Thus, the journal of the day's proceedings will show only dispassionate political statements, devoid of signs of acrimony, during the "happy hour" of Wednesday, March 20.

TRIPLE HEADER THIS EVENING

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boxing's championship triple header rained out of its first scheduled date, tries again tonight at Dodger Stadium, with welterweight king Emile Griffith meeting Luis Rodriguez in the feature.

"Mostly clear," was the weatherman's forecast, yet promoters still kept their fingers crossed after the postponement last Saturday night cost them an estimated $100,000. They hope to recoup with a big crowd.

Down the drain with the rain went the $70,000 television guarantee. Tonight's show now goes on strictly for the audience in the huge baseball field.

Opening the title action at 11 p.m. EST, are Griffith, the 147-pound champion from New York, and Rodriguez, the Cuban exile who now calls Miami, Fla., his home.

Davey Moore of Columbus, Ohio, then defends his featherweight crown against Sugar Ramos, another Cuban refugee who now lives in Mexico City, while Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mex., fights Roberto Cruz of the Philippines for the vacant junior welterweight title.

All three fights are scheduled for 15 rounds.

Plymouth-Whitemarsh Plays Norwin Saturday Night For PIAA Class A Cage Crown

By DAVE LEHERR
Of The Associated Press

It will be unbeaten Plymouth-Whitemarsh versus surprising Norwin Saturday night for the PIAA Class A basketball championship—a prize neither school has ever won.

The two newcomers qualified for the title match last night, Plymouth-Whitemarsh coming from behind to spoil Harrisburg William Penn's dreams 59-55 and Norwin eliminating Erie Tech 56-42.

Big John Naponick, the pride of Straw Pump, Pa., sparked the Knights of Norwin, dropping in 23 points and hauling down more than 30 rebounds for the PIAA's Cinderella team, while turning in a great defensive effort on Tech's 6-foot-7 Joe Liedtke.

TWO SAVE GAME
Across the state, the clutch shooting of Ed Szczensky and Bob Olszewski in the last quarter saved the day for Plymouth-Whitemarsh.

Szczensky and Olszewski clicked for all 13 of their team's last period points as the Colonials picked up their 23rd straight victory of the season.

Olszewski canned three straight jump shots and a free throw for seven points, while the 6-foot-5 Szczensky had six, including a tap-in with less than a minute to go that put the game out of reach.

Their performances offset a brilliant 15-point third quarter by Penn's spring-legged Gary Ross, a bounding 6-footer who helped take up the slack after 6-foot-6 Rick Alander ran into foul trouble.

IGNORED PRESSURE
But the calm, collected Colonials refused to buckle under Penn's pressure, even when trailing 47-43 late in the third period.

A hook shot by Olszewski, a wrist lay-up and two free throws by Szczensky and the Colonials had the lead for keeps.

Alander, who fouled out of 5:55 left in the final stanza, was held to a mere four points. Ross was the big gun for the Tigers with 21, but Szczensky took game scoring honors, hitting for 22.

SELLOUT CROWD
A sell-out crowd of nearly 5,000 was on hand for the Norwin-Erie Tech battle and most of the spectators came away quite impressed over Naponick, the 6-foot-9½ 285-pound giant who wears size 18 shoes.

Naponick scored 23 points, controlled both boards and sparked as a playmaker, passing off to teammates at key points during the game for easy shots.

Even more impressive was his manhandling of Liedtke, Tech's 6-foot-7 pivotman who has averaged close to 19 points a game this year.

When the final score was up, Liedtke had only five markers, four of them coming in the last quarter when Norwin let up a little.

TWO FIGHTS
The game was marred in the waning minutes by two fights in which three players were ejected—first, Claude Haraway of Erie Tech, then later Liedtke and Bruce Thomas of Norwin.

It was Erie Tech's first loss to a Pennsylvania team this season. The Centaurs only other loss was to a Cleveland school.

The all-senior District 10 champions wound up the season with a 25-2 chart.

But for Norwin, it was another step in the ladder of success for a team that once wasn't even expected to win its own district, the WPIAL. The Knights are 24-3.

The championship game will be televised across the state from the Harrisburg Farm Show Arena starting at 7:30 p.m.

The other state championships, in the Class B and C ranks, also will be decided the same night. Defending champion Darby-Colwyn, boasting a 49-game winning streak, clashes with Mercer at the Pitt Field House for the "B" crown, while Jim Thorpe goes after its second straight "C" title against Rothrock at Bethlehem.

Dupas Will Battle Champ For Crown

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ralph Dupas, the dandy dancer from New Orleans, will get a crack next month at Denny Moyer's junior middleweight title.

The New Orleans Boxing Club announced Wednesday night that Moyer would meet Dupas here April 29 in a 15-round championship match at Municipal Auditorium.

The Moyer-Dupas bout had earlier been scheduled for Oakland, Calif., on April 15, but promoters there canceled the match after both fighters said they could make more money elsewhere.

Olszewski and Szczensky clicked for all 13 of their team's last period points as the Colonials picked up their 23rd straight victory of the season.

Olszewski canned three straight jump shots and a free throw for seven points, while the 6-foot-5 Szczensky had six, including a tap-in with less than a minute to go that put the game out of reach.

Injured Fighter's Money Held For Tax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. government has filed an income tax bill of $9,798 on the $26,000 the stricken Argentine heavy-weight, Alejandro Lavarante, earned in this country in 1962.

Because of the tax lien, Lavarante's father will not be able to take his son home until after a hearing, set for May 29.

The boxer has been in a coma for six months. He was knocked out in a Los Angeles fight and never has regained consciousness.

Lavarante's father was given permission two weeks ago to handle the $16,886 the boxer had in a bank account, but the tax lien lies up the money until the hearing.

INDIANS PICK YOUNG ROOKIE AS SHORTSTOP

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—One of the most widely discussed and highly regarded major league rookies is Antonio (Tony) Martinez, who will be the Cleveland Indians' opening day shortstop April 9.

It was as far back as last January that Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts announced Martinez would be his opening day shortstop although he had never seen him play.

Now that he has, Tebbetts is even more convinced that the 21-year-old Cuban, with only three years of minor league baseball experience behind him, can take over as the Indians' every-day shortstop.

"LEARN EVERY DAY"
"Martine not only will open the season at shortstop for us," said Tebbetts today, "but he'll be in there the next day, the next week, the next month and every day in the season. He's the shortstop . . . period."

Such preseason buildup has been known to affect young players before.

"I don't think it bothers me," said Martinez, who speaks English better than most Latin players. "I know what Tebbetts says but I don't think the position is given me. I know I have to show it. I feel I have lots to learn and I learn something every day."

SKOWRON FLY HITS A TREE; GETS A TRIPLE

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers used big bats, but then the New York Mets used a tree.

The tree turned in a sparkling defensive play for the Mets in the ninth inning Wednesday, holding Bill Skowron's out-of-the-park shot to a triple and saving New York's 4-3 exhibition baseball victory over the Dodgers at Vero Beach.

The Houston Colts got seven hits from Carl Warwick and 33 in all against 21 for San Francisco at Phoenix to outlast the National League champion Giants 16-12 in a 13-inning marathon.

The Yankees, barreling into ninth place in the American League standings, managed to get by with only 27 hits—including homers by Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone—for an 18-3 triumph over Washington at Fort Lauderdale.

FLOOD HOMERS AGAIN
Curt Flood hit his third homer and played thief on two drives to center field as the Cardinals dumped the Orioles 4-3 at St. Petersburg. Baltimore was the last undefeated team in exhibition play.

Pittsburgh blanked Detroit in a six-inning game, at Lakeland, Cincinnati edged Minnesota 6-5 at Tampa, the Chicago White Sox defeated Philadelphia 7-5 at Clearwater, Boston whipped Cleveland 5-2 at Scottsdale and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 at Palm Springs.

Skowron lost his decision with the tree that grew at Vero Beach when his blast with one man on and the Dodgers trailing 4-2 cleared the bank surrounding the outfield but struck the tree and rebounded onto the playing field. Skowron had to settle for a triple.

BML CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS; HONORS TEAMS
New officers were elected, championship team awards presented and other business transacted at the annual spring meeting of the Blue Mountain League Wednesday evening at the Dutch Pantry, Camp Hill.

Eugene Williams, Northern, was elected president and Bob Bostic, also of Northern, was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Awards were presented to Big Spring, basketball champion; Newport, wrestling champion, and the Camp Hill girls' basketball team.

Approval was given to schedules and officials for the various sports. A new conference constitution was presented and also approved.

TRACK MEET HERE
It was officially announced that the Blue Mountain Conference track meet will be held Saturday, May 11, on the Gettysburg College field. George Forney, Gettysburg High School athletic director, is the chairman for the meet. Reid Ernst, Camp Hill, was named as clerk of the courts and Boiling Springs was appointed to secure the official starter and referee.

Schools represented at the meet included Gettysburg, Bigler, Camp Hill, East Pennsboro, Northern, Newport, Shippensburg, Big Spring, Boiling Springs and Susquehanna.

Representing Gettysburg at the meeting were Forney, Charles Tressler, high school principal; Donald Young, baseball coach; Merrill Eckhart, basketball coach, and Patrick Kelly, track coach. Biglerville was represented by Arthur Gordon, athletic director; Charles Yost, principal; Dan Bushman, basketball coach; Don Sterner, track coach, and John Toggas, wrestling coach.

Clinch Title On 3-3 Tie
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An old, old maneuver that first backfires brought Toronto its first National Hockey League title in 15 years and broke Montreal's five-year stranglehold on hockey's major league championship.

The Maple Leafs trailed 3-2 with less than a minute to go in Toronto Wednesday night when they lifted goalie Don Simmons in favor of a sixth skater.

With 3 seconds to go, center Dave Keon scored his second goal of the game, beating Montreal's Jacques Plante from a scramble in front of the net.

That nailed down a 3-3 tie and clinched the title for Toronto. The Leafs now lead Montreal and Chicago by four points, and each has only two games to go.

New York blasted Boston 5-1 in the only other game played, with the Rangers' Vic Hadfield turning in the three-goal hat trick.

CHICAGO (AP)—Does your age scare you?

Do you feel an outsider in the 50-mile hike crowd?

Do you think this is strictly a world for bright young guys, who wear sharp suits and wits to match?

Well, here's good cheer for oldsters huddled in what seems a Custer's Last Stand against war-patching youth.

A roll call in the realm of sports leadership reveals the elders still are big wow-wow men.

They'll never see 60, or 70, or even 80 again, but the sports pages still sprout such evergreens as Gen. Douglas MacArthur (83), Branch Rickey (82), Avery Brundage (75), Casey Stengel (71) and Ford Frick, P. K. Wrigley and George Halas, all 68.

AREN'T DREAMERS
Then how about Will Harridge (77), George (Red) Trautman (73), Chick Evans (72) and K. L. (Tug) Wilson (67).

These aren't rocking-chair dreamers of the past.

Old soldier MacArthur recently astounded the rival AAU and NCAA leaders with his firm arbitration in their long-standing feud for control of amateur athletics.

Rickey, baseball's old fox, has them alive in the St. Louis Cardinals front office. Brundage still is the most dominant personality in the amateur sports world as president of the International Olympic Committee.

STENGEL IS BUSY
Stengel still gets interviewed by the hour and never runs out of subject matter as boss of the lowly New York Mets. Frick, of course, is the titled leader of professional baseball as high commissioner.

Wrigley, the chewing gum magnate, is full of new baseball ideas, the most noteworthy his persistence in keeping his Chicago Cubs a managerless outfit with an "athletic director" as the freshest twist.

All need be said about Halas, a founding father of the National Football League, is that he will continue his quest for just one more title as owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

KEEPS OFFICE HOURS
Harridge, former president of the American League, still keeps office hours in Chicago as chairman of the league's board of directors.

Trautman still is a fighting president of the National Association of Professional Baseball League, battling to stem the fall and decline of the minor leagues.

Evans continues to compete in the National Amateur Golf Championships, which he won, along with the coveted U.S. Open, in the same year, 1916.

Wilson, forced to retire as Big Ten commissioner several years ago, still rides tall high in the administrative saddle as president of the U.S. Olympic committee.

Expect 18,000 At Cage Tournament
NEW YORK (AP)—It's Providence vs. Marquette and Canisius vs. Villanova tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament with Marquette and Villanova favored to win.

A close to capacity turnout of 18,000 was expected at Madison Square Garden for the double-header. Providence, second-seeded and boasting a 13-game winning streak, goes against the third-seeded Warriors from Milwaukee in the first game.

Unseeded Villanova drubbed Canisius 79-60 during the regular season and the Wildcats figure they can do it again.

Tonight's winners play for the championship Saturday afternoon.

Hawks Overcome 16-Point Deficit
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Detroit Pistons are fast learning from the St. Louis Hawks that in the National Basketball Association the team that finishes fastest, usually ends up with the most.

St. Louis spotted the Pistons a 16-point margin in the first minutes and then stormed back to bury the Detroiters in the closing quarters to take a 1-0 lead in the Western Division semifinal playoffs with a 118-99 victory.

The two teams will meet for the third straight time on Friday in St. Louis in the second game of the best-of-5 series.

Syracuse and Cincinnati resume their Eastern Division playoff series in Cincinnati Thursday night. The Nats lead, 1-0.

In the last regular season game last Sunday, Detroit moved to a 24-point lead in the early going before the Hawks got moving and pulled out the victory.

TITLE BATTLE OFF FOR YEAR; LISTON'S KNEE

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

A knee operation will put heavyweight champion Sonny Liston out of action for at least six months. He may not fight again until next year.

The return bout with Floyd Patterson, which has been hanging by a thread for several weeks, was postponed indefinitely Wednesday night by the Miami Boxing Commission, after an official examination that revealed damage to the cartilage in Liston's left knee.

"It is our opinion that this knee should have the benefit of surgical procedure," said a report by Dr. A. H. Weiland, widely known orthopedic surgeon who made the examination.

6 MONTHS TO HEAL
It would take at least six months for the knee to heal after such an operation, Dr. Weiland said. One of Liston's associates said the champion probably will not schedule a fight during the remainder of this year.

When the rematch with Patterson will be fought now is up to Liston. Where it will be is up to Patterson, who has the right in the return bout to name the site.

Quietly, Patterson closed his Tropical Park training camp Tuesday night and began an automobile trip to his home in New York.

Talk started immediately of a possible match between Patterson and the young contender, Cassius Clay.

"I don't feel so good," Liston moaned when he walked out of Dr. Weiland's office after the hour-long examination which he had returned from Chicago to undergo on orders from the boxing commission.

His knee, originally injured when he swung a golf club, apparently was recovering when he hurt it again March 13.

Less than two hours after the examination Liston climbed on a plane and returned to his Chicago home.

LISTON WILL PREPARE FOR KNEE SURGERY
By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf club-shy Sonny Liston began training again Thursday—this time for an operation on his left knee that may shelve him for the rest of the year.

"For the next couple of days I've got to lift 40-pound weights with my legs to help strengthen my knee," he told The Associated Press. "Then I guess I'll have another examination. I know now I got to have an operation. The sooner the better."

HURT WHILE POSING
"I'm glad I went to Miami yesterday and proved that I had a bad knee. I was getting mad about all the talk that it was an excuse to duck the fight with Floyd Patterson. I think everybody is satisfied about my knee now."

The world heavyweight champion, who said he quit training for the Patterson return match weighing 222 pounds and now is 225, hurt his knee swinging a golf club while posing for a photographer.

The bout was set back from April 4 to April 10 and now is off indefinitely.

Liston returned from his one-day trip to Miami Wednesday night with his companion, Lowell Powell. The only persons to meet them at the airport were this reporter and an Associated Press photographer, who drove them home.

NEVER PLAYED GOLF
In the car, the seated Liston was asked just how the injury happened.

"I just swung back like this"—and that was the end of the demonstration as his ham-like mitts, clasped over an imaginary golf club, banged against the roof.

"Last time I'm ever going to pick up one of them things (club)," said Liston. "And even if maybe I once thought of playing golf, it's out of my mind for good now. It's cost me too much already."

Liston said he never had played golf.

3 Phil Pitchers Pounded By Chisox
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox pounded three Philadelphia pitchers for 30 hits Wednesday enroute to a 7-5 exhibition baseball victory.

Paul Brown, who hadn't been scored on in spring training, gave up eight hits and six runs in the first five innings.

Clay Dalrymple hit a solo homer for the Phillies in the sixth and also had a double and a single. White Sox rightfielder Dave Nicholson hit a two run homer in the first.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

FORMER GRID PLAYER DIES

John A. Hubickak, 58, who starred as a football player at Gettysburg College before becoming a scholastic coach, died Tuesday in Phoenixville after a long illness.

Hubickak graduated from Gettysburg in 1929 and was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He quarterbacked the Bullet football teams for several seasons.

Following graduation he coached at Bedford High School 1929-41 during which he piloted three undefeated teams. He then became athletic director at the Keystone Naval School, Bedford Springs, during World War II.

In 1945 he returned to his native Phoenixville where he coached until 1955, his teams winning 56, losing 27 and tying six. Following his retirement as coach he continued as a teacher on the Phoenixville High School staff.

Surviving are his widow, four children and two grandchildren. Funeral services Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. John's Reformed Church, Bedford, with interment at Pleasant Valley.

FAIRFIELD LL TO REGISTER
Registrations for the Fairfield Little League will be held Saturday, March 23, and Saturday, March 30, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Fairfield Fire Co. hall, it was announced today by Eddie Kane, secretary of the league.

All boys wishing to participate during the coming season must report and register on those afternoons.

Kane also reported that more than $650 has been received in donations after an appeal for funds to help pay for the plot of ground where a new field will be built.

A night of games will be held Friday evening, April 5, at 8

Tire Firm, Girdle Maker, Engineer Are Involved In "Trade Secrets" Dispute

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What's in a man's head can belong to someone else.

His knowledge, courts have held, is not necessarily his to sell.

This proposition is being tested anew in a conflict involving a tire company, a girdle maker and a bright young chemical engineer.

The outcome could have broad implications for industry and workers.

At issue is the principle, rooted in English common law, that trade secrets a man learns on the job belong to whoever was paying him at the time.

HOW IT OPERATES

Knowledge of ingredients and of ways of putting things together or working materials is not the property of the discoverer but belong to his employer, this principle has held.

The new legal action tries to find out exactly how this operates.

The tire company, B. F. Goodrich, is seeking to prevent a former employee, Donald Wohlgermuth, 30, from working in a certain operation of International Latex Corp., the firm that makes Playtex products.

Goodrich says it fears the loss of confidential information about space suits, the field in which Wohlgermuth had worked for Goodrich.

IMPORTANT ISSUE

Goodrich said it is pressing the case "in view of the importance to American industry of the legal question involved."

The problem has mushroomed in recent years. Some $15 billion a year is spent on research. Products and processes depend upon complex and intricate information. Corporations worry that ideas that cost millions might pass out the door into a competitor's plant in the person of a departing employee.

As a result, an increasing number of firms require technical people to sign an agreement not to reveal secrets to a future employer, usually for a stated period of time—six months to two years in most cases.

The line where general information stops and specific, secret information begins is not always easy to draw, however.

The Goodrich case attracts interests for this reason, among others. It involves trying to spell out the secret area in advance, then prevent the newly hired employee from working in it.

This emphasis on restricting before there has been any actual disclosure makes the case something of a bellwether, some legal experts think.

Wohlgermuth, a graduate engineer from the University of Michigan, had been technical manager of space suit development engineering for Goodrich. The firm has been a leader in the field, providing the suits for astronauts in Project Mercury.

RELATIVE NEWCOMER

International Latex, based at Dover, Del., is a relative newcomer in the field with a new $1.5-million contract for Apollo moon flight outfits. It hired Wohlgermuth, topping his $10,600 a year salary at Goodrich with pay of $13,700.

Goodrich went to court and got an injunction stopping Wohlgermuth from doing any work for Latex.

"Until the hiring of Mr. Wohlgermuth," said Goodrich, "it had been the uniform practice of companies in the industry to train their own space suit scientists."

Latex replied that Wohlgermuth had a right to advance his career, said Goodrich was underpaying him for the job he was doing and that Latex merely paid him average rates for his kind of skills. Further, Latex said its space suit technology was different from—in fact, was farther advanced than—Goodrich's.

APPEALS DECISION

Common Pleas Court Judge Frank H. Harvey in Akron, Ohio, where Goodrich is based, ruled after a trial that "the mere fact that a former employee who possesses a trade secret has accepted employment from a rival manufacturer isn't sufficient to warrant an injunction against the employee" unless evil intent is shown.

Wohlgermuth, who lives with his wife and child in a new house he bought near the Dover plant, could return to work, the judge said. Goodrich appealed.

CHARGE WIFE IN POISON TRY

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Gail Broadus, 24, of New Castle was free on $3,000 bond Thursday, pending further action on charges that she tried to kill her husband with poison.

William Broadus, 26, was reported in fair condition at Jameson Memorial Hospital where he had been undergoing treatment for some time before the nature of his ailment was discovered.

Mrs. Broadus was released on bond Wednesday after her arraignment before Alderman Howard Hanna.

Dist. Atty. Kenneth E. Fox of Lawrence County said Mrs. Broadus admitted giving her husband ant poison to police on March 8. She had, according to police, been placing small doses of the poison in her husband's food since last November.

Mrs. Broadus was hospitalized for psychiatric study for a time but was released after a psychiatrist said she was mentally competent.

5 MAY GET NEW KIDNAP TRIAL

READING, Pa. (AP)—Five Philadelphia men convicted in the robbery-kidnap of an alleged numbers figure may get a new trial because of a piece of rope.

The five were convicted by a Berks County jury Tuesday night of kidnapping the late Frank Donato last September and holding him prisoner while his house was searched for money.

Donato has since been slain in a gangland fashion. The case has not been solved.

President Judge Warren K. Hess said Wednesday the district attorney left jurors with the impression that a piece of rope introduced at the trial was from the same rope used to tie Donato. Hess said the rope, found in a car belonging to two of the defendants was not the same. He said the five may be granted a new trial.

Dist. Atty. Frederick O. Brubaker denied withholding evidence. He said he had told defense counsel Samuel Lieber that the pieces were not the same. Lieber, however, said Brubaker did not tell him until after the trial.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The New York Mets are interested in Los Angeles Dodger outfielder Duke Snider but will have to wait at least 10 days before learning whether he's up for the highest bidder.

The Dodgers told the Mets Wednesday that the Los Angeles club wants to wait 10 days more before deciding whether to keep the 36-year-old left-handed swing-

A/B Henry W. Wood, son of Mrs. Dorothy K. Wood, R. 5, has been reassigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for technical training as a United States Air Force weapons mechanic. He completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., and was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes. The airman is a 1960 graduate of Gettysburg High School.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The trial of Samuel M. Braid, former state welfare official, is set for the June session of Dauphin County Criminal Court.

President Judge Walter R. Sohn postponed the trial Wednesday on a motion by Braid's attorney, James W. Evans, who contended that he only recently had become the defendant's legal counsel and had not had sufficient time to prepare his case.

Braid was indicted last January on 29 counts of obtaining money under false pretenses, forgery, misfeasance in office and violation of the state's diverse interest act.

HARRISBURG AP—State employees would have protection from dismissals during the first three months of a new administration under a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by three Allegheny County Democrats.

Reps. Paul F. Luty, Louis Leonard and Andrew Fenrich submitted the bill (H691) proposing a moratorium on firings during a change of administrations "except for flagrant refusal to perform" duties.

More than 500 state employees have been dismissed since Republicans took office Jan. 15. Under the Democratic proposal, they would have had a respite until April 15.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Three of the state's leading educators and a top industry official are laying the groundwork for Gov. Scranton's proposed Council of Science and Technology.

Three of the four met Wednesday with Scranton and Commerce Secretary John Tabor.

They were Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University; Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, president of the University of Pennsylvania; and Gwilym A. Price, chairman of the board of Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The fourth member is Dr. John C. Warner, president of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Marjorie D. Tibbs of Harrisburg takes over Monday as director of the bureau of women and children in the state Labor and Industry Department.

She was named to the $9,454-a-year post Wednesday, succeeding Elizabeth Johnson of Cumberland County, whose resignation was requested by the Scranton administration last Feb. 13.

The post was turned down by Mrs. Louise Russell of Wilkes-Barre, secretary of the Republican State Committee, who reportedly had balked at the starting salary. Miss Johnson had received $12,675.

GRADERS WILL

will feature Marcia Karr, Susan Reedy, Anita Eller, Nadine Waybright and Melanie Fair as Candyland people who charm, with their dancing, the following visitors: Fred Planz, Charles Krietz, Cynthia Grinberg, Michael Lilley, James Hoffman, Michele Nunamaker and Andria Hoffman.

"DRESSING UP"

"D" for "Dressing Up," will be dramatized by Lisa Oyler, Barbara Crapster, Susan Hoffman, Kimberly Ketterman, Diane McClella, Brenda Hall, and Heather Sterner.

The music "E" — "Elephant Walk" — is from the movie "Hart." In this number Cheryl Speir, Kimberly McCarthy, Adele Millhimes, Barbara Olson, Regina Rudisill, will be the dancers; Robert Crabill and Ricky Davis appear as card holders.

"F" is taken from the "Fire Song." This song not only presents the five firemen, Gary Dillon, Michael Sanders, Richard Boehner, Douglas Weitzel and Todd Waybright, but also Sandra Herring as the girl in distress.

"G" FOR "GIRLS"

"G" is for "Girls" of course, and the lovely girls are Gale Coffman, Colleen Shaffer, Kimberly Laudin, Penny Preuss, Sue Harmon, Wanda Jacobs, and Virginia Plank.

The "Happy Birthday" song supplies the "H," and completes the first part of the program. David Haskins, Todd Green, Lindsey Riley, Samuel Everhart, John DeHaas, Thomas Alberts and Larry Green will join the girls at the party.

The Second grade will start with an "I" for Indian Song. Dancing Indians include Jim Nelson, Nicholas Meligakis, Kurt Dagenhart, Richard Andrew, David Kuhn, Dennis Plank, Ernest Kranias, Dale Smith and Bradley Smith.

"The Jesters Dance" and "King Cole" song add "J" and "K" to the musical alphabet. Jesters are Ronald Musselman, Andrew Crouse and Joseph Saum. Stanton Hodges is King Cole, with Stephen Ambrose, John Fisel and Robert Daniels as his fiddlers.

"LAUGHING SONG"

"Laughing Song" is the song for "L."

A Panamanian folk song, "Music Making," represents the "M" and introduces a combo comprised of Robert Plank, George Williamson, Jonathan Flood, Kenneth Rosenberry, Mark Reinberger, Russell Maitland, Gary Closson and James Sheppard.

"N" for New York will present the following children at play in the song "Sidewalks of New York": Trudy Mauston, Mary Lou Bruce, Beverly Knox, Jacquelyn Wenschhof, Linda Brewer, Stephanie Loudon, Cynthia Angiolis, Ann Koons, Robert Weaner, Richard Deaneer, Keith Settle and Robert Boenau.

An "Oriental Dance" supplies the "O." The dancers are Yvonne Johnson, Patricia Collins, Mary Jean Eisenhour, Elyse Kennell, Bruce Straub, Richard Kranias, Stephen Schwartz, Janet Davies, Michael Dayhoff and Randy Tyler.

"PICNIC IN PARK"

Children pantomiming the "Picnic in the Park" song for the letter "P" are Larry Scott, Sheryl Swinn, Christina Hubbard, Amy Epley, David Mickle, Ronald Heintzelman, David Hartman, Peggy Hartzell, Peggy Sheely, Terry Miller, John Carpenter and Jody Kujovich.

"Q" for "Queen Mary" is an English singing game. Roxann Baltzley appears the queen and Jane Weaver, Marie Klinefelter, Kathy Dushad, Diane Topper, Karen Mehl, Jeanette Criswell, Donna Boyd and Laura Kammermer are the dancers.

A "Rhythmic Response from West Africa" with the Third Grade chanting establishes "R" among the letters. The callers are Thomas Ford, Stephen Olinger, Betsy Blosser, Barbara Ecker, Robert Fowler, Kenneth Malcolm and Linda Dillman.

SPRING SONG

Franz Schubert's "Spring Song" represents the "S" and presents Rodney Thomas, Todd Smith, Scott Dillon, James Welshon, Randall Rose, Marilyn Orner, Maylin Bigham, Sheila Tressler, Christina Thomas and Linda Henderson.

"Telstar" for "T" will be followed by "U. S. A.," a military drill providing the "U." In the drill are John Lawver, Bruce Newman, Robert Wagner, Kevin Sterner, Randall Leiphart, Chris Hoffman, Beverly Scott, Roxanne Condie, Susanne Spahr, Sandra Rudisill, Cathy Crouse, Barbara Wickerham and John Grove as Uncle Sam.

"V" is for Valentine and "Valentine Song." Robert Rohrbaugh and Faye Hess will complete this picture.

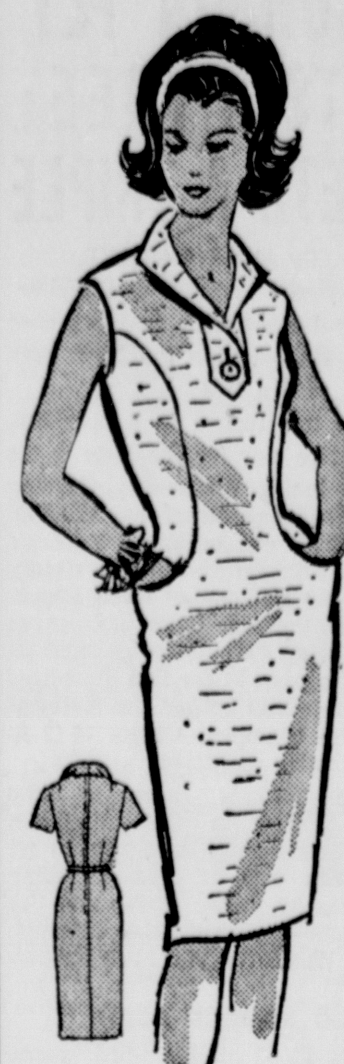

CHORUS TO SING

The chorus will sing "Waltzing" for the "W." Dancers in this number are Paul Hoover, Jeffrey Stoops, William Leedy, Richard Hillard, Karen Carpenter, Samuel Swope, Donna Shriver, Donna Boyer, Kay Crist and Nancy Topper.

"X" stands for "X-ray" featuring as doctors Terry Williams, Stephen Williams, David Spertzel and Kristina Feeser and Linda Gregg as nurses.

"Yip Pee Ki," the cowboy song

Says Women Show Far Too Much Leg

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Gen. Wilfred Kitching, the Briton who heads the Salvation Army, says women show far too much leg. "Nowadays, skirts are much too immodest," he said in an interview today.

"How low would you like to see our skirts?" asked a girl reporter in a knee-length skirt.

"Better ask my wife," answered the general, smiling. "But I would say a skirt which came halfway between the knee and ankle would seem modest enough."

The general is visiting Australia for three weeks.

Yacht Loses Three Crewmen In Tahiti

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Eight months ago the yacht Monsoon left San Diego with an all-American crew of six aboard.

When the 47-foot former salmon trawler sailed into Sydney Harbor today, skipper Kerb Hope, 31, a Los Angeles engineer, was the only American aboard. The other five had been replaced by an Australian, an Englishman and three New Zealanders.

"Tahiti was the worst," said Hope. "I lost three of my men there. The Pacific islands are so great I was tempted to jump ship myself."

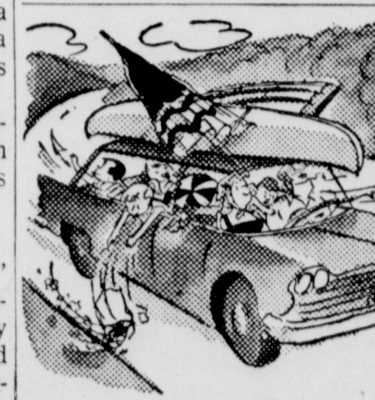

Hope is on a three-year pleasure cruise.

DR. LANGSAM IS AUTHOR OF HISTORY TEXT

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of the University of Cincinnati, is the author of a new collection of essays, "The World Since 1919," released Wednesday by the American Book Company, New York City, publishers.

Dr. Langsam is well known in Gettysburg. He was president of Gettysburg College from 1952 to 1955, when he was called to Cincinnati.

Widely known as a historian and author, Dr. Langsam has written other books: "The World Since 1919," a best seller in the historical field, translated into Chinese and attaining seven editions; "Francis the Good, the Education of an Emperor (1768-1792)," translated into German, and most recent until the current volume, "Historic Documents of World War II," published in 1958.

The new 558-page 27-chapter volume in dedicated to Renton K. Brodie, chairman of Cincinnati University's board of directors.

In a brief foreword Dr. Langsam writes: "With each passing year it becomes more evident that an understanding of the present in human history requires some knowledge of the past. George Santayana phrased this truth beautifully when he wrote, 'Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.'"

"It is the aim of this volume to present some of the past accurately and readably. May both the student and general reader derive from it understanding and pleasure."

The book has four main parts: "Years of Material Development, 1870 to 1914;" "War and Its International Aftermath, 1914 to 1939;" "Two Decades of Domestic Unsettling, 1919 to 1939," and "Since 1939."

Several chapters were contributed largely by Cincinnati University's Dr. Warren F. Stubbs, professor of nuclear science, and Drs. James M. Laux and Gene D. Lewis, assistant professors of history.

Customs Duties Threaten Farm Exports To Europe

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP)—Western Europe's Common Market, fostered by Uncle Sam, has grown into a self-assertive teenager who has the old man worried.

The Common Market's system of customs duties threatens the market for American farm products in Western Europe. Its members, especially France, want to produce more of these products instead of buying them abroad.

In 1961 the United States shipped $1.6 billion worth of farm goods to the Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Preliminary figures indicate the total was even higher in 1962.

INCREASE SEEN

Present plans of the Common Market authorities could up this by a third or more.

Sales of American cotton and tobacco are not much threatened. Common Market members produce little of these.

Sales of American poultry have been hard-hit and grain may be next on the list.

After World War II Americans were saying that Europe could get out of its vicious circle of poverty and war only if it broke down old trade barriers at national frontiers. Europeans, it was argued, should be brought into one big market so European businessmen could give the consumer mass-produced goods at low prices. It would be economical for European countries, with their smaller farm area and many tiny plots of ground, to concentrate on dairy and meat production. Grains could be bought much more cheaply abroad.

These ideas appealed to many Europeans, and the Common Market is now formed and moving toward unity in many ways. But when it comes to farming, things are not working out as the United States might have liked.

A series of variable levies can make any farm import cost a little higher—or, if desired, a whole lot higher—than the home-grown variety.

CHICKEN LEVIES
Last summer the new Common Market levies went into effect on chicken. Entrance fees for American poultry shot up 250 per cent, to 12.5 cents a pound. American exports dropped off.

West German housewives now pay about 44 cents a pound for chicken. The American product could be sold for 25 per cent less if it were not for the levies.

European consumers are being denied a bargain but the Common Market chicken farmers are cleaning up. American chicken farmers face the loss of $50 million of business a year.

26 PER CENT DECLINE
Even more money is involved in U.S. exports of grain and grain products to the Common Market—$389 million in 1961. Here too the levies have begun to be felt. Eggs and pork are also affected.

The most recent figures of the U.S. Department of Agriculture show a 26 per cent decline in exports of these products to the Common Market in the four-month period after the levies went into effect. The decline is in comparison with the same four-month period in 1961.

The Common Market aims to set up uniform prices throughout the six countries for wheat and other grains. If the price is set high, farmers inside the Common Market will put even more land into grain, and produce so much that substantial imports won't be needed.

Right now the French government supports wheat prices at about $2.15 a bushel, and the West German government at about $3. American farmers often sell wheat at $2 or less.

SAY YANKS SHELLED SHIP
HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government blamed the United States today for the shelling Sunday night of a Soviet freighter in the sugar port of Isabela de Sagua.

Confirming in part the accounts of spokesmen for the exile organizations Alpha 66 and the Second National Front of Escambray, the Armed Forces Ministry said cannon fire and machine gun bullets damaged the freighter Lvov at its berth in the port, 223 miles east of Havana.

The ministry said nothing about an attack on a Soviet military camp also reported by the exiles. It paid no attention to the fact that the U.S. State Department went on record Tuesday as being strongly opposed to the commando raids by foes of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The communiqué declared the raid was a part of "constant and systematic provocations and aggressions organized and promoted in the U.S. territory against our fatherland and shows once more the infamous and aggressive character of the imperialist policy against Cuba."

SYLVESTER TO BE QUIZZED ON NEW CONTROL

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester goes before investigating congressmen Monday to tell his side of the story on administration handling of information.

Sylvester's handling of Pentagon announcements during the Cuban bombers and missiles crisis, and his statement that the government has a right to lie in times of grave crisis, drew sharp criticism Tuesday as a panel of news industry leaders testified before a House subcommittee investigating government information policies.

The Pentagon information officer and his opposite number at the State Department, Assistant Secretary of State Robert Manning, are due before the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee Monday for the second installment of the inquiry.

CALLED "BURDEN"

Subcommittee Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., wound up the first session by describing the newsmen's consensus this way: "The government itself should now propose guidelines on policies for any future crisis."

Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register and Tribune told the subcommittee that Sylvester "stands as something of a symbol of the problem."

"I feel he has damaged his usefulness and is somewhat of a burden to the secretary of defense and the administration," Mollenhoff said. "It is difficult to see how anyone can have very much confidence in what he has to say."

CLAY REPORTS ON FOREIGN AID FROM U.S.

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Total U.S. foreign aid since World War II will climb above the $100 billion mark this year.

How well the giant overseas assistance program promotes U.S. security—and how it could be re-fashioned to do a better job—is the subject of a controversial report by a presidential advisory committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Aides said a final version of the Clay report was made available to President Kennedy today. The report is expected to be made public this weekend.

DETAILS NOT AVAILABLE

Figures furnished by the Agency for International Development, which administers U.S. aid, list $97.7 billion worth of military and economic help to 111 countries and foreign groups from July 1, 1945 through mid-1962.

Though detailed statistics for the current fiscal year have not yet been worked out, the over-all total is certain to push past $100 billion. That's because Congress last fall voted another $3.9 billion in new aid funds and other items like surplus food disposals abroad have been topping $2 billion a year.

France, with $9.4 billion, and Britain, with $8.7 billion, still rank 1-2 as the largest total receivers of postwar American aid. The Western allies got the bulk of their U.S. financial help in the early postwar years when the Marshall Plan focused on Europe an recovery.

HAS UNDERGONE CHANGES

Today, the aid pattern is different. With Europeans now prospering and dispensing aid themselves, U.S. aid now focuses on underdeveloped countries and poorer lands pressed by the Communists.

Thus, far more American assistance has gone to nations like India, Korea, South Viet Nam and Turkey since the end of the Marshall Plan in 1952 than to West European countries.

American aid has undergone other changes too. In the 1949-52 Marshall Plan years, all but $3 billion of the $19 billion in U.S. overseas economic help went out as grants, or gifts. By 1962 the emphasis had changed to easy term loans aimed at stimulating economic development.

Of the $97.7-billion cumulative total, $66.6 billion has been in economic aid of which $42.7 billion was grants. Military assistance totaled $31 billion, all except $279 million in grants.

Health
Doctors say it isn't right to rub snow on frostbite. Frostbitten skin breaks easily. For relief, apply warm water. In wet, windy winter weather, Fingers, toes, ears and nose can be injured in their tissues. By tiny ice crystal formations. A sharply pricking sensation in a hard, numb, whitish area warns of a deepening frostbite. Keep under wraps in winter.

Latin Chiefs Seek Aid For Pet Projects

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Cheered by a U.S. pledge to protect their coasts against Cuban infiltrators, six Central American chief executives made individual pleas to President Kennedy Wednesday for economic aid to better the lot of their peoples.

Although advocates of drastic action against Fidel Castro led out, the Latin presidents generally seemed satisfied and joined Kennedy in a seven-nation "Declaration of Central America" which expressed confidence that the Castro regime will fall soon.

PROMISES PROTECTION

Kennedy promised that the United States will tighten its anti-subversion ring around Cuba with more plane and ship protection of coast.

An authoritative source said that Kennedy, in the private sessions Tuesday, impressed the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua with the extent of U.S. military commitments—short of "shooting at Cuba"—which he revealed to them.

Kennedy also promised multi-million-dollar aid for their program of regional economic and social development. But each president had pet projects of his own and each was allotted a half hour today to plug them.

Kennedy scheduled talks with Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica, Julio Rivera of El Salvador, Miguel Ydigoras of Guatemala, Ramon Villeda Morales of Honduras, Luis Somoza of Nicaragua and Roberto Chiari of Panama.

In the afternoon the U.S. president addressed students at the University of Costa Rica before boarding his jet plane for Washington.

To protect their countries against Communist infiltration, the presidents agreed:

1. To ask the Organization of American States for early action to counteract Castro-Communist subversion.

2. To hold a meeting of security officials at the Cabinet level within four weeks—probably at Managua, Nicaragua—to plan measures to halt the flow of their nationals to Cuba and the flow of Communist money, propaganda and arms from Cuba. U.S. officials indicated that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy may attend.

3. To arrange for more rapid and complete exchange of intelligence on such movements.

The presidents agreed to speed up their fledgling common market which would tie in later with a Latin-American free trade area.

Arab Leaders Seek Unity Compromise
CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic conferred until 4 a.m. Wednesday with Syrian Premier Salah Bitar in an effort to reconcile their views on Arab unity.

Nasser believes in one party rule, but Bitar's Ba'ath Socialists are more liberal. Reconciliation is an evident requirement for a union of Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

The Ba'ath is strong in Syria and Iraq.

Bitar was minister of national guidance in Nasser's Cabinet before the union of Egypt and Syria split up.

If a recipe calls for "prepared flour" it means self-rising flour to which leavening and salt have been added.

Some columnists have difficulty filling up their columns... some are so careless with the truth that they won't even bother to check their facts... and others write plain "hog-wash." Below is a sample of what one columnist wrote "out of his neck" in a column appearing in a Sunday newspaper.

Gen. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the ceremonies celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. There'll be a pageant and parades with floats... Ben Edwards, the Broadway stage-designer, went to Gettysburg to help plan the floats. He decided first to survey the parade route, to determine how tall the floats could be without being brushed or toppled by tree branches.

He got a six-foot fishing rod. Then, with Adele Nathan of the pageant committee, and Major General Flucke of the 28th Division, he rode in the general's open car. Edwards held the pole aloft, to see if it hit any obstacles. The car completed its tour at the parade's wind-up point, the Town Hall of Gettysburg. A crowd gathered there, curious about the general, the woman and a man with a fishing rod.

Mayor Bill Weaver of Gettysburg noted the crowd, rushed out of his office and, pointing to the fishing rod, said, "I'll have to arrest you. The trout season here doesn't open officially for another month."

The only thing truthful about the above is that General Eisenhower has been appointed honorary chairman of the centennial commission.

As for Mayor Weaver, he never met Ben Edwards, never saw him, and the quote attributed to Weaver is an unvarnished bit of falsehood. The columnist's name isn't worth mentioning.

With good weather coming, the millions of children who have had their bicycles stored in garages and basements for the winter soon will be out riding them again, roaming the streets and highways.

And if they don't know the proper, safe way to handle their bikes, they can be a dangerous traffic hazard. Last year, 550 lives were lost in bicycle accidents, the most since 1949, according to the National Safety Council.

Most bicycle deaths fall in the 5-to-14 school-age group, adds the Council, so parents should be especially certain that they remind their children about safe bicycling habits before letting them ride to school.

The most important thing to remember is that in most places, a bicycle is considered a vehicle and must obey the same traffic regulations as cars.

Cyclists should ride on the right side of the road, obey all the traffic control signals, and use the proper hand and arm signals for turns and stopping.

They should ride in a single file, preferably, and never more than two abreast on a street. Stunting and showing-off should be saved for a yard or field.

A cyclist should never try to squeeze in between two lanes of traffic, whether the cars are moving or stopped. He should watch carefully for cars pulling into traffic and for sudden opening of car doors.

At busy streets, crosswalks, or intersections, it's safest to get off the bike and walk it across.

If a bike is ridden at night, it should be equipped with a light on the front and a reflector on the rear. The cyclist himself should wear white or light-colored clothing after dark.

Gettysburg Commemorative Postage Stamp Is Creating Much Interest; Out July 1

By SYD KRONISH
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. commemorative stamp paying tribute to the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg on July 1 is creating much interest and enthusiasm outside the realm of philately. However, collectors wishing to purchase special cachet covers for the occasion may write to the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association, P. O. Box 1863, Gettysburg, Pa. One first day cover is 25 cents, plate block is 40 cents, and plate number blocks are 65 cents each. The proceeds from the sale of these covers will be used to purchase additional land to promote the Civil War Battlefield at Gettysburg.

Two commemorative stamps honoring the 25th anniversary of the Stockade and Tower Settlements have been issued by Israel. The founding of these settlements between 1936 and 1939 is a story little known to the general public, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

They were designed to protect the small Israeli settlements from hostile outside marauders and the towers were built within a period of 24 hours. The towers consisted of sand-filled walls, a dynamo, a double barbed-wire fence. Within the fort there were three cottages for the members, a dining room and a kitchen.

The stamps honoring these pioneer settlements show the beginning of work after sunrise and the completed stockade and tower after sunset.

Israel also has issued a "Freedom from Hunger" commemorative in cooperation with the United Nations program. The stamp features an outstretched hand offering food to a little bird.

Pakistan has announced a special overprint to honor its contingent of armed forces sent to West Irian to promote the cause of peace under the auspices of the United Nations.

Overprinted is the 13-paisa Shalimar Garden design originally issued in 1961. The overprint is in red while the cover of the stamp is indigo. The inscription reads "U.S. Force W. Irian."

A special series of stamps with surtax has been issued by the Kingdom of Burundi in memory of Prince Louis Rwagasore. The surtax is for the benefit of the sport stadium named in his honor and for a monument. The series consists of six bicolored denominations with three designs which portray the late prince and show a view of the sport stadium and the monument.

San Marino has issued a new set of 10 stamps illustrating the "History of Ships." The designs show sailing ships of different eras. The values are 1 Lire 2L, 3L, 4L, 5L, 10L, 30L, 60L, 70L, and 11L.

Afghanistan has issued two new stamps to honor "Meteorology Day." Both stamps have the same design showing meteor shots and the emblem of the World Meteorological Organization.

ALL STUDENTS MUST PAY TAX

Kenneth O. Hook, district director of the Internal Revenue office, said today he would like to correct a wide misunderstanding among high school and college students. Many of them think they are exempt from income tax as students and have been "very disappointed" when only part of their withheld tax was refunded.

He said that a student is liable for federal income tax just like any other taxpayer. The misunderstanding is caused by special provisions in the tax law that allow a parent to claim his child as a dependent even though the child had more than $600 income. If the parents contributed more than one-half of the support of the child and the children is under 19, the parents may claim his exemption as a dependent. The same rule applies if the child is a full-time student for at least five months of the year.

Hook emphasized that even though a student may be listed as a dependent on his parent's return, this does not affect his responsibilities as a taxpayer. He gave the following example: John, a high school senior, earned $800 with $45 tax withheld. He must file a return, claiming his own exemption as a taxpayer. The tax from the tax table on $800 is $26; thus, he will receive a refund of $19. If his parents furnished more than one-half of John's support, they may also claim him as a dependent on their return.

Hook suggests that students or parents call Philadelphia, Walnut 13-3010, if they have any questions,

TO OBSERVE FOUNDING OF E.B. IN 1964

The first meeting of the East Berlin bicentennial committee took place recently at the borough hall. The committee plans to observe the 200th anniversary of the laying out of the town by Prussian John Frankenberg in 1764.

The committee comprises seven committees, one from each major civic organization of East Berlin, each named by its organization to lend co-operation to the borough council celebration leaders.

Representing the council at the session were Borough President Robert S. Lau, Secretary Curtis A. Eisenhart and Mayor John Phillips.

Irwin H. Gross and Raymond L. Hoffman Jr. represented the Richard J. Gross VFW Post and the ladies' auxiliary was represented by its president, Margaret Eisenhart, and Mrs. Kathryn Albright.

Charles L. Spangler and Alfred R. Billett represented the Lions Club with Melvin C. Eisenhart, Ralph Myers Jr. and Earl Bollinger sent by the fire company.

Representing the Boy Scout committee of Troop 111 were Leonard L. Myers and Richard Wise.

The town's oldest fraternal organization, Redmen of Oniska Tribe, sent as delegates Richard Herman, Charles Reynolds, George D. Baker and Russell H. A. Fissell, and the corresponding order of Pocahontas, newest local lodge, sent Mrs. Helen L. Altland, Mrs. Sylvia Herman, Mrs. Rosella G. Altland and Mrs. Kathryn Baker.

The committee elected Irwin H. Gross as chairman, Alfred R. Billett co-chairman, Mrs. Helen L. Altland secretary and Charles L. Spangler treasurer.

A historian will be elected at the next meeting April 17 at the borough hall. This will be a planning session with all representatives of co-operating organizations to be present.

RULES POSTED

Two regulations were laid down at the opening session. One asks each organization to make a cash contribution toward launching the celebration. Any portion of the amount not needed will be returned to the organization from the surplus.

Another permits any town group to have as many representatives as desired at the meetings but permitting only one vote from any organization on any debated measure.

All townspeople, former residents, or anyone having any connection with East Berlin over the last two centuries are asked to be alert to items of the town's history which may be in their possession. It is expected that a vast collection of documents, letters, photographs, etc., will be secured for display purposes during the celebration.

Details of this portion of the project will be announced by the historian when this official is chosen next month.

Investigation is now being made to determine which family of present town residents can trace its origin the farthest back to the original pre-Revolutionary settlers.

MAN IS SLAIN IN MOTEL ROOM

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP)—Jerry Venezia, 36, a Philadelphia realtor, was shot to death today in a motel bedroom just across the Philadelphia-Bucks county line in Bensalem Township.

Police said they were questioning a woman who signed into the Lincoln Motel as Venezia's wife. Deputy Coroner John C. Black of Bucks County said Venezia, whose cards listed his address as 2137 Welsh Road, was shot five times. He said any one of three shots in the neck, left ear and left side could have caused death instantly.

Chief William F. Riempp Jr. of the Bensalem police said the woman being questioned is the daughter of a Philadelphia policeman. He gave her first name as Cathy.

Riempp said the woman told him the .38 caliber revolver used in the slaying was her father's. "I only wanted to scare him," Riempp quoted her as saying.

Russia Launches Unmanned Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched an unmanned satellite today.

The satellite was named Cosmos 13, the Soviet news agency Tass announced.

The Soviets began launching the Cosmos series a year ago and said they were measuring radiation and other phenomena. Cosmos 12 was launched Dec. 22.

Tass said Cosmos 13 had been placed in orbit with an initial time to circle the earth of 89.77 minutes. The equipment installed on board the satellite is functioning smoothly, Tass said.

Bermudian School News

By Joy Neidig and Shirley Cornman

There will be no school for students in the Bermudian Springs District this Friday when the teachers meet in workshop session.

Secondary teachers will concentrate on curriculum study and revision with three consultants from the Department of Public Instruction: William D. Allam, English; Thomas McCreary, science and mathematics; and John Billman, social studies. English teachers will also be given a demonstration of teaching machines and programmed materials.

The elementary teachers' workshop will center on the themes of modern reading materials and modern mathematics materials. A Mr. Campbell of Encyclopaedia Britannica will present materials dealing with modern trends in mathematics and John Plastos of Science Research Associates will present materials dealing with some modern approaches to the teaching of reading.

SCHOOL ON APRIL 15

But there will be school for students on Easter Monday, April 15, when time will be made up for that lost during the winter because of snow. June 5 has been set as the last day of school.

A meeting of those interested in the Citizen's Scholarship Fund for the school district has been set for tonight. All interested in helping worthy students to get a college education are asked to meet in the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Forty-three seniors have completed the course in individual, family and community protection. The 12-hour course was taught by high school faculty members John Rebert, Robert Boltz and John Korver. It is designed to prepare individuals and families for natural and man-made disaster.

SENIORS ENROLLED

Seniors taking the course were Bonita Bower, David Bricker, Samuel Bricker, Susan Bricker, Mary Jane Chronister, Shirley Cornman, Arlene Davis, Helen Hankey, Louy Kuntz, Barbara Miller, Joy Neidig, Gary Shank, Carol Shook, Cheryl Snyder, Jesse Stoner, Dennis Vaughn, Cynthia Zepp.

Vicki Glatfelter, Patricia Green, Barry Guise, Linda Hinkle, Thomas Hoff, Jerry Jacobs, Harold Lau, Barbara Lescalleet, Francis Stambaugh, Ronald Trostle, Richard Wolf, Lucille Prosser, Barbara Wantz, Jane Weigand, Linda Weigle.

Shirley Dennis, Lorraine Kennedy, Dorothy Myers, Joann Sheaffer, Fred Alwine, Emory Golden, Alvin Griest, Paul McCauslin, Richard Riggs, James Smith and Vincent Warren.

WANT GRID FACTS

Upon successful completion of the course, students are awarded certificates issued by the Department of Public Instruction.

The high school PTA met recently in the cafeteria to discuss questions basic to school philosophy. Questions were introduced by Librarian John R. Korver after a lengthy business meeting when discussion centered on school football. A committee is to be appointed by President Fred Hopper to learn the facts of the football situation.

The annual "Teen Talk" program, a series of seven topics in character education presented as a part of the Wednesday morning devotional period, is underway with four of the units completed. Sponsored by the school's Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, the program is developed by the Pennsylvania YMCA.

Discussion leaders and their assistants are Larry Herren, Joseph Bedford, Bill Hinkle, Keith Baker, Ron Crook, Judy Ensor, Betty DeHaven, Ben Leas, Darlene Wonders, Debbie Hoffman, Karen DeHaven, Sarah Moore, Cynthia Zepp, Bonnie Bower, Paulette McIlwee, Connie Boone, Barbara Lescalleet, Susan Bricker, Susan Grim, Vickie Byers, Nancy Decker and Sandy Miller. No More Playing After 2 Questions

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Two questions in the locker room between halves of Michigan's basketball victory over Indiana here last Feb. 9 put captain-elect Bob Cantrell out for the rest of the game, says Coach Dave Strack.

Cantrell was hit accidentally on the chin late in the first half, but waved Strack and trainer Jim Hunt away, shouting: "I'm all right."

In the locker room Strack asked Cantrell if he felt all right. "Sure," said the player, "but can I speak to you privately?" They went to a corner, and Cantrell said:

"Two questions: First—where am I? And second—who the devil are you?"

RADAR CASE IS BEFORE HIGH STATE COURT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—How accurate are the means of testing the accuracy of the radar device used in arresting speeders and just what does the term "accuracy" mean?

This puzzle came before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Wednesday in a case questioning the mechanics of the 1961 state radar law.

The law requires that the device be tested and its accuracy confirmed.

Attorney Bernard S. Shire appeared before the high court in behalf of Steve Perdok of Donora, who was convicted of speeding in Rostraver Twp., Westmoreland County, Nov. 11.

FACT OR OPINION

Shire argued that the certificate used by the state shows the results of the test of the radar device but doesn't specifically state the results prove the device's accuracy.

Justice Benjamin R. Jones asked Shire, "You want an opinion rather than facts?"

The attorney replied: "That's correct, because the persons testing these are supposed to be experts. If they don't say it's accurate, it would be up to the court or the district attorney. I don't know what is considered accurate, and I don't think the court would know."

JUSTICES DISAGREE

Justice Michael A. Musmanno disagreed with Justice Jones, saying, "I don't think that's an opinion; it's a matter of objectivity." Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward B. Doran of Westmoreland County claimed an instrument will have some error, no matter how slight it might be.

"You cannot make any instrument accurate," he said. He also claimed that when a person speaks of accuracy he "gets into a question of semantics."

MORE DISAGREEMENT

Musmanno again disagreed. He claimed everybody knows the meaning of accuracy.

"If you check your watch with time signals every day and it is correct, then it is accurate," Musmanno added.

The Perdok case was argued before State Superior Court last November, then certified to Supreme Court.

Demonstrations Against Military Rulers In Korea

By CONRAD FINK
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Shouting antigovernment slogans, 300 opponents of South Korea's military rulers barricaded themselves in a building in downtown Seoul Thursday and held out against police for an hour.

More than 100 national policemen finally broke into the meeting hall as hundreds more held back huge crowds that waited tensely in the streets outside.

Led by former Premier Huh Chung, the demonstrators left the building peacefully after agreeing not to march through the streets if the police made no arrests.

SCATTER LEAFLETS

A small band scattered leaflets demanding an end to military rule but there were no demonstrations of violence.

Chung and Huh then made the "no street march-no arrests" deal.

Civilian leaders appeared undismayed by the ease with which club-swinging police crushed two small demonstrations in the heart of the capital Wednesday night.

About 100 members of several parties gathered at the home of former President Yun Po-sun and reportedly agreed to again press publicly their campaign against strong man Gen. Chung Hee Park.

U.S. IS SILENT

Civilian leaders pledged to continue the struggle until they win their goal—an end to the military rule that Park has suggested be extended for four years.

The U.S. Embassy maintained silence.

Both the military and its civilian opposition appeared eager for recognition from the United States, apparently feeling this would give them a strong talking point in the bid for public support.

The United States has planted $3.5 billion in aid in South Korea and expects to continue to help support it.

Washington has made plain it wants a return to a civilian administration through national elections such as Park once promised would be held this spring.

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORTANNA—The monthly meeting of the WWS of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church was held Monday evening in the church hall with eight members present.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. Dale Wetzel, followed with the hymn, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" after which the secretary's report was given by Mrs. Claire Robert. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Clyde Metz. Both were accepted and approved. The selection of a study class book was again discussed with no decision resulting.

Mrs. Clyde Metz presented a new book, "Churches and a Model T," for the reading work. Mrs. J. E. Spence reported another rosebud would be needed in the near future.

Mrs. Spence also presented a letter from the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Burtner asking for literature and hospital supplies in the mission field.

Mrs. Wendell Wetzel will be leader for the April meeting with Miss Linda Carbaugh to serve as hostess.

The following program was given after the business meeting with Mrs. Paul Wetzel as leader with the topic, "That They May Be Oaks."

A plaque depicting the subject was before the audience, a large picture of Mt. Carmel Church wreathed in oak leaves from the large oak trees near the church building.

The call to worship was given by the leader. After a hymn the 23rd Psalm was read by Mrs. George Haines. Readings were given by Mrs. J. E. Spence and Mrs. Robert Shindedecker.

Readings were also given by Mrs. Dale Wetzel, Mrs. Claire Robert, Mrs. Clyde Metz and Mrs. John Baker. A question period followed. A social hour followed and refreshments were served Mrs. John Baker as hostess.

A sunrise service will again be held at the Mt. Carmel EUB Church Easter Sunday morning. The Rev. Alfred G. Gotwalt, pastor, said plans are being made for the service and the Young Adult Class of the Sunday School will sponsor the breakfast to follow.

SELECT JUNIOR TO ENTER NCTE COMPETITION

Barbara Hull, a junior at Bermudian Springs High School, has been chosen to represent the school in the 1963 Achievement Awards contest sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Miss Hull was selected by the English department as the most outstanding junior in clear, effective and well-organized writing; ability to think for oneself; knowledge of English grammar, usage and composition; wide and perceptive reading; literary awareness; speaking ability and desire for a college education.

Between April 22 and May 3, Barbara will take two tests on literary awareness and English grammar, which will be sent to the school by the NCTE. In addition, the following must be submitted: A letter from an English teacher, a letter from a school administrator or guidance counselor, a 250-300 word autobiography of the nominee, an impromptu piece of writing by the nominee on a subject to be designated by the NCTE, to be completed in an hour and submitted in longhand without revision, and a sample of the nominee's best composition in prose or verse. Announcement of awards will be made November 28.

2 PREVIOUS WINNERS

The school has had two winners during the five years of the contest: Carl Myers, a 1959 graduate, who is now attending Elizabethtown College and who was a runner-up in the state contest, and Joy Neidig, a senior at Bermudian Springs, who was named by the NCTE as one of the nation's top students in English.

Miss Mildred Christman, home economics teacher at Bermudian Springs, contributed her favorite dessert recipe to the Favorite Recipes Press, Inc. The recipe was selected by the editors for inclusion in "Favorite Recipes of Home Economics Teachers," dessert edition. Miss Christman received a certificate and free copy of the book as an award.

Sally Moore has been named as editor of the 1963-64 yearbook. Members of the staff are Kurt Semke, assistant editor; Ronald Hoover, Paul Midouur and Ronald Crook, photography; Jim Harbold and Bill Shook, sports; Susan Grim, business manager; Judy Ennis, assistant manager; Barbara Hull, literary; Paula LeConrad Weiser, Dorale Starner, June Leinart and Linda Ebersole, ads and subscriptions; Sue Wallace, Donna Leathery, Delores Starner, Linda Dennis, Janet Miller and Shirley McCleaf, typists; Lucille Moore, Barbara McIlwee and Bill Shook, art.

Jessie Stoner, a senior, placed first in the math contest held March 14 and sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Actuaries. Tied for second place were Seniors Sam Bricker and Barbara Miller. Other students participating in the contest were Susan Bricker, Shirley Corman, Joy Neidig, Ronald Hoover, Barbara Hull, Joe Wolf and Darlene Wonders.

Students who are 16 years of age and older who are interested in having an application filed in the Gettysburg employment office for summer employment consideration should secure an application blank from Guidance Counselor John Rebert as soon as possible.

People In The News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frederick W. Adams, a Toccoa, Ga., teacher fired for assigning the novel "A Bell for Adano" to his eighth-grade class, has won a court order for a new hearing before the school board.

The board contended the novel contained language which made it unsuitable reading material for children.

Gov. William A. Egan, noting the overflight March 14 of south-west Alaska by two Soviet reconnaissance planes and citing "woeful inadequacy" of Alaska's defenses, says he wants missile bases and more fighter planes for his state.

The Far North, Egan said in Juneau, has a far more serious and continuing danger than is posed by Cuba.

President Sukarno of Indonesia has been treated successfully for the second time by a Communist Chinese medical team, according to Antara news agency in Jakarta.

The agency did not disclose Sukarno's ailment.

Last year, Antara said, Communist Chinese doctors treated Sukarno for a kidney ailment.

When a burglar broke into her Paris apartment, Madame Danielle Gamblin said, she struggled with him.

Her dog jumped into the fray—on the side of the burglar. The lady was treated for bites on both arms.

FOOD POISON DEATHS BEING INVESTIGATED

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Health authorities still seek positive answers today to whether contaminated tuna caused two food poisoning deaths and, if so, how many cans from the same batch still are on pantry shelves.

If any of the 5,700 cans shipped to Detroit area A&P food stores were contaminated, there were more than one? Were there others among the 26,400 cans of Japanese tuna packed the same day by the same West Coast packer?

Experts say the answers may be several days away.

RARE TYPE

Two Detroit women died of food poisoning tentatively diagnosed as "type E botulism," a rare type generally associated with marine life from extreme cold waters.

Ralph Johnson, U.S. Food and Drug Administration bacteriologist at Detroit, said "we have some toxic (poison) cultures" from the can from which the women ate, and that "preliminary indications make us very suspicious." But he was not ready to say whether it was type E or whether the tuna could have been responsible.

About a dozen cans from the suspected shipment, taken from store and pantry shelves proved negative in FDA tests.

He also will receive $25,000 outright, household furniture, jewelry and real estate in Pike County, Pa., under the will made last Jan. 23. On her death, the principal of the trust will go to Yale University.

A member of the family said Miss Grove had been a companion to Olds' wife, Evelyn, before Mrs. Olds' death in the late 1950s.

Olds' will also left $5,000 each and the income from a $200,000 trust fund to his brother-in-law, Pell W. Foster Jr., and Foster's wife, who live in Englewood, N.J.

In addition, $50,000 was willed to Cooper Union, an educational institution here; $25,000 to Yale; $15,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and $25,000 to Bertha Gardner, not further identified.

JFK WILL TELL OF COSTA RICA MEET TONIGHT

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reports to the nation tonight on the Costa Rica conference which produced a seven-nation agreement to speed economic development of the hemisphere and curb Cuba-based subversion.

Shortly before Kennedy left the Costa Rican capital of San Jose late Wednesday, he announced he would open a 6 p.m. Washington news conference with a statement on his Monday through Wednesday talks with the chief executives of Panama and the five Central American republics.

The President was certain to express satisfaction with the outcome of the San Jose meetings, which brought him personal acclaim and agreement on a detailed statement of policy to guide the United States in its dealings with Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Honduras.

CHANGES TIME

Hoping to attract a large television-radio audience for the news conference, Kennedy postponed for two hours the 4 p.m. starting time of the session originally announced more than a week ago.

The news conference will be carried live on NBC, CBS and ABC radio networks. It also will be carried live on television by NBC, ABC planned live broadcasting except along the Pacific Coast, where a rebroadcast was scheduled at 4:30 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time).

CBS said no decision had been made on television coverage.

Kennedy, who left Washington last Friday for a weekend in Palm Beach, Fla., before going to San Jose on Monday, returned to the capital late Wednesday night.

Before leaving San Jose, Kennedy told a cheering crowd of university students that Cuba is an example of communism's failure to provide for its people. Contrasting the progress of Costa Rica with that of the Communist-controlled Caribbean island, Kennedy said Cuba now produces 25 percent less food than it did five years ago.

The crowd at the University of Costa Rica, estimated at 10,000, cheered lustily as Kennedy wound up his speech with: "Viva Costa Rica. Muchas gracias."

WOMAN TO GET BULK OF HUGE OLDS ESTATE

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Louise Grove of Manhattan will receive the bulk of the estate of the late United States Steel Co. board chairman Irving S. Olds. An attorney described her as "a valued friend of the family."

A will filed for probate Wednesday showed that Olds, who died a widower on March 1, left the residue of his unestimated estate in a lifetime trust to Miss Grove.

She also will receive $25,000 outright, household furniture, jewelry and real estate in Pike County, Pa., under the will made last Jan. 23. On her death, the principal of the trust will go to Yale University.

A member of the family said Miss Grove had been a companion to Olds' wife, Evelyn, before Mrs. Olds' death in the late 1950s.

FOOD AND DRUG OFFICIAL SAYS DRUGS LIFTED

By LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Food and Drug Commissioner George P. Larrick says three drugs which an FDA medical officer claimed had not been proven for safety "have been off the market for a long time."

And Larrick said in a statement Wednesday the drug law passed by Congress last year will enable his agency to deal with such cases more effectively in the future.

Dr. John O. Nestor, medical officer for FDA Bureau of Medicine, told the Senate Government Operations subcommittee Wednesday that the agency had permitted sale of at least three drugs—Entoquel, Mer-29 and Altufur—although preliminary data on them did not substantiate their safety.

COMMITTEE RESUMES
Nestor further testified that the FDA dragged its feet in pulling two of them—Mer-29 and Altufur—off the market following indications that they produced injurious side effects.

The subcommittee headed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., resumes its study of drug marketing safety procedures today.

Larrick in his statement conceded that the original drug applications criticized by Nestor "could have been done better." But he noted that the FDA is bound by laws passed by Congress, and the cases cited by Nestor occurred before Congress last fall passed a stricter law for handling and licensing new drugs.

An FDA spokesman said Wednesday night that some of the provisions of the new drug law are in effect and "most will be in effect and operative early in May."

Nestor, 50, a Washington pediatrician who joined the bureau two years ago as a specialist on pediatric drugs, declined comment Wednesday night when asked if he thought the new regulations would preclude cases such as he cited.

Nestor testified that he and other pediatricians have opposed an application to include meprobamate (vitamin K) in a multiple purpose vitamin capsule on grounds that if given pregnant women it might lead to brain damage, spasticity and death in newborn infants.

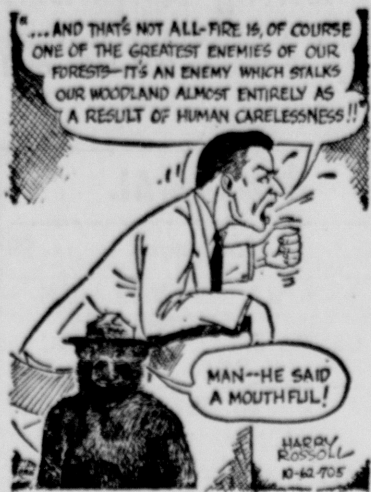

Report At

each century, bones of the dead are burned to cleanse the island and rid it of spirits.

A large number of tourists are on Bali for the ceremony. However there have been no reports of any foreigners among the casualties. Most of the tourists are staying at Denpasar, the capital of Bali, about 40 miles southwest of Agung.

The island is just off the east coast of Java, Indonesia's most populous island.

Winter Was

The record cold of the winter of 1917-18 was accompanied by 62.8 inches of snow. The winter of 1903-04 had 47 inches and snowfall during the winter just ended came to 38.5 inches.

20 BELOW ZERO
This winter saw December and January with below normal temperatures but February was chillest in 58 years.

The coldest December on record came in Gettysburg in 1917 with an average temperature of 24.2 degrees. The coldest January on the books was in 1912 when daily temperatures averaged 20.7 degrees and 1905 saw the coldest February when daily readings averaged 22.5 degrees.

The record January in 1912 saw the coldest day on record here. It came on January 14 with a low of 20 below zero. Second honors for a single day are held by December 21, 1942, when the mercury dropped to 14 below zero.

Spring arrived here at 3:20 o'clock this morning with the temperatures below freezing and a brisk breeze from the west. Wednesday's high of 50 degrees was not likely to be reached here today.

CHILLY WELCOME
A late winter storm swept into Pennsylvania on the first day of spring today, dumping up to three inches of snow in some areas and causing hazardous driving.

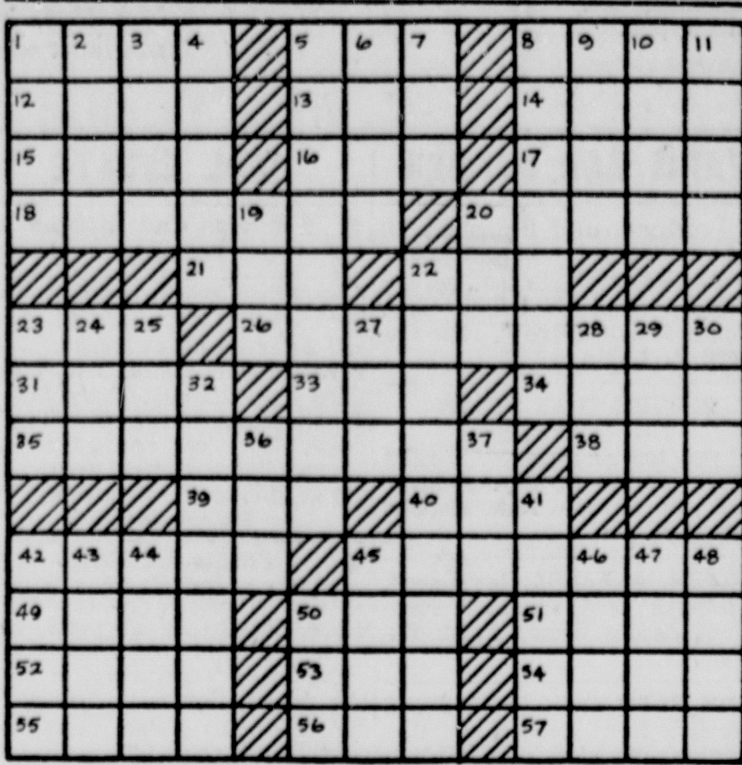

Temperatures dipped below the freezing mark and many highways were coated with sheets of ice. Traffic was tied up on many major roads and state police reported a rash of skidding accidents. Cinder crews were out in full force in many counties.

State police reported snow of one to four inches had fallen in an area encircling Clarion, Smethport, Coudersport, Lewistown, Lock Haven, Brookville and Indiana. Temperatures ranged from 22 to 30 in those places.

ture." Rolanda grants him only a week.

HUMOR, SURPRISES

In this short time Don undertakes to solve Linda's problems — and runs full tilt into Jack Wilson, her long-time boy friend, portrayed by Ronald Miller. The transference of Linda's affections from Jack to Don is frowned upon by her pretty secretary, Marge, played by Nancy Kuhn, whose romance with Harry, Stacey's controller, portrayed by Philip Jones, provides its own moments of comedy. However, it takes two of the store's oldest employees, played by Mary Alice Rich and Gary Hartman, to really go to bat for Jack in some of the warmest and funniest scenes of the operetta.

Jack, unknown to Linda, goes to Mr. Tilden, the town's pompous but likable banker, portrayed by Allen Knouse, and, in a comical interview, enlists his aid.

Don leaves for the return to Venus, and a completely unexpected twist to the story untangles everything, bringing the curtain down on "a happy ending." Richard Jones will play the kindly Italian chestnut vendor, and Stuart Bloom will portray the villain who nearly costs Linda her store. The villain's meek, mild-mannered shadow will be played by John Musselman.

DANCERS, CHORUS

and addition to the rear rather than remodeling of the present building.

EPLBY OFFERS

Hartzell said the Epley building being offered to the borough for $100,000 was previously offered to council for $70,000 and $80,000 at various times. He also said architects had told him it would "cost $150,000 to put the Epley building in shape." Several expressed the hope council would consider more than just a municipal building now.

Andrew Larson, representing the Travel Council; Paul Witt, Steinwehr Ave. motel owner; James Sneeringer and Robert Weaner were among those who urged council to take into consideration a number of possibilities for the future before making a final decision.

Larson said the Travel Council "feels that, if the borough spends a large sum of money on new building, it should also consider a new location with a large parking area."

Witt asked that council consider the question of future development in its plans for enlarging the municipal building. He said the fire department may be divided into several units some time in the future.

Weaver said the fire department works well because of its "high morale" and that if the department was divided "we would get the bickering problems other communities have which have divided their fire department. We want to avoid that as long as possible."

Sneeringer said, "I think we could provide space enough for fire equipment without spending $200,000."

Hartzell said that if $200,000 is spent on the building "taxes would not be raised; we already have $60,000 of our own money and would get $100,000 from the government."

S. Blaine Miller suggested that council could obtain a fair price by "spending $3,000 to get drawings from an architect that are necessary before anyone can bid on the proposed enlargement of the present fire house. I think the cost would be much lower than $200,000 and I think you could get a good price for the work now. Contractors are looking for work."

Of the 30 present, four were councilmen, Hartzell, Mrs. Schwenk, Attorney John Thrush and Richard Smith. Mayor Weaver and the borough solicitor, Attorney Donald G. Oyler, were also present. Of the remainder about 12 were firemen.

INDIANS RENEW BASKETRY ART

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — There is a revival in the ancient art of basket making among the Papago Indians of Arizona.

Papagos have made their highly-prized baskets in this part of the southwest for centuries, yet three years ago the art was reported in danger of dying out.

"The young girls are more interested in going to school," basket-maker Mrs. Lolita Manuel laments. "Some of them will start to learn, but they won't keep it up."

"When I was a young girl, our mothers made us make baskets instead of just playing."

Now there is a revival of interest among the females of the tribe because of a transplanted Californian by the name of Mrs. James Estrada who recently became the first non-Indian to be elected to honorary membership in the Papago tribe.

"Our youngest basket maker now is just 5 years old, and our oldest is 87," she explains.

SALES SUPERVISOR

As chairwoman of Tribal Arts and Crafts, she supervised the sale of 3,000 Papago baskets in the past year.

"The Papagos are making more baskets today than they did 15 years ago," she says with pride. "The workmanship is as good as it ever was."

These are not ordinary woven baskets. The heart of all strands is bear grass. The green color in the baskets is secured by binding the grass with unbleached yucca. For white, bleached yucca is used. Blacks come from devil's claw cactus. Now and then some of the baskets contain red. This comes from binding the bear grass with roots of the yucca.

Some women will make as many as 100 baskets in a year.

A good basket will bring up to $25 retail.

WATER-PROOF BASKETS

But there are still only a very few women on the reservation who know how to make the tight baskets that hold water without leaking and are used in the Papago wine ceremonies.

Mrs. Estrada receives a few of the liquid-proof baskets each year, with all of them going to museums or collectors.

Interest in Papago baskets is growing. Late in November the wrote the Papagos and the White Mountain Apaches asking that each send four of their baskets to President and Mrs. Romula of that country.

The Papagos picked four of the miniature baskets of which they are so proud. The tribe insisted upon paying the women who made them, and then mailed them to the president as a gesture of international goodwill.

MOOSE LODGE

director of the joint industry contract committee of Washington, D. C. He has been a member of Moose Lodge No. 9 of Fairmont, W. Va., since 1939, and is a past governor of that lodge. He served as a district vice president and state president of the West Virginia Moose Association and then as deputy supreme governor of West Virginia before being elected to the Supreme Council of the Moose, the top governing body of the order, in 1961 when he was named supreme prelate. Last June he was named supreme junior governor.

A member of the Legion of the Moose, he received the fellowship degree of the Moose in 1946 and the pilgrim degree of merit in 1952.

He served as a clerk of the United States Senate Committee on the District of Columbia before becoming congressman from the First District of West Virginia.

Weikert and Sandra Wise. Accompaniment for the chorus, dancers and soloist will be provided by a 14-piece dance band formed by high school students.

You can often save time by cooking potatoes ahead, but the spuds will lose some of their vitamin C (ascorbic acid) after 24 hours in the refrigerator. So when you serve cooked-ahead potatoes to your family, make extra sure that you also serve some high-C foods such as tomatoes, citrus fruits and green cabbage.

NATO Burden Is Ladening European Unity

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
PARIS (AP) — For all of its millions of men and billions of dollars the shield of NATO has dangerous cracks.

They are the splits over its nuclear future and the role that the all-important France of President De Gaulle plans to play. In their wake they have brought recriminations among the allies as to which are paying their full share in the common defense of the West and which aren't.

A breakdown of the military and monetary contributions of the member nations shows the major partners Great Britain and France both lagging.

SEEK ACCURATE REPORT

This picture emerges from a study of such manpower and defense budget figures as are available to the public.

However, it is extremely difficult to obtain an accurate report on the status of NATO forces. For one thing, much information is classified and therefore not available to newsmen. For another, the defense budgets of several countries cover expenditures outside the NATO area and it would be almost impossible to decide how much goes to NATO and how much elsewhere.

This is particularly true of the United States with its world-wide commitments — the Pacific and the Far East, for example, are outside the NATO area. This is also true, to a lesser extent, of Britain, France, Portugal, Canada and even Holland.

In NATO's 14-year history, even Italy at one time spent some of its defense budget in Somaliland, outside the NATO area.

SURVEY OF COUNTRIES

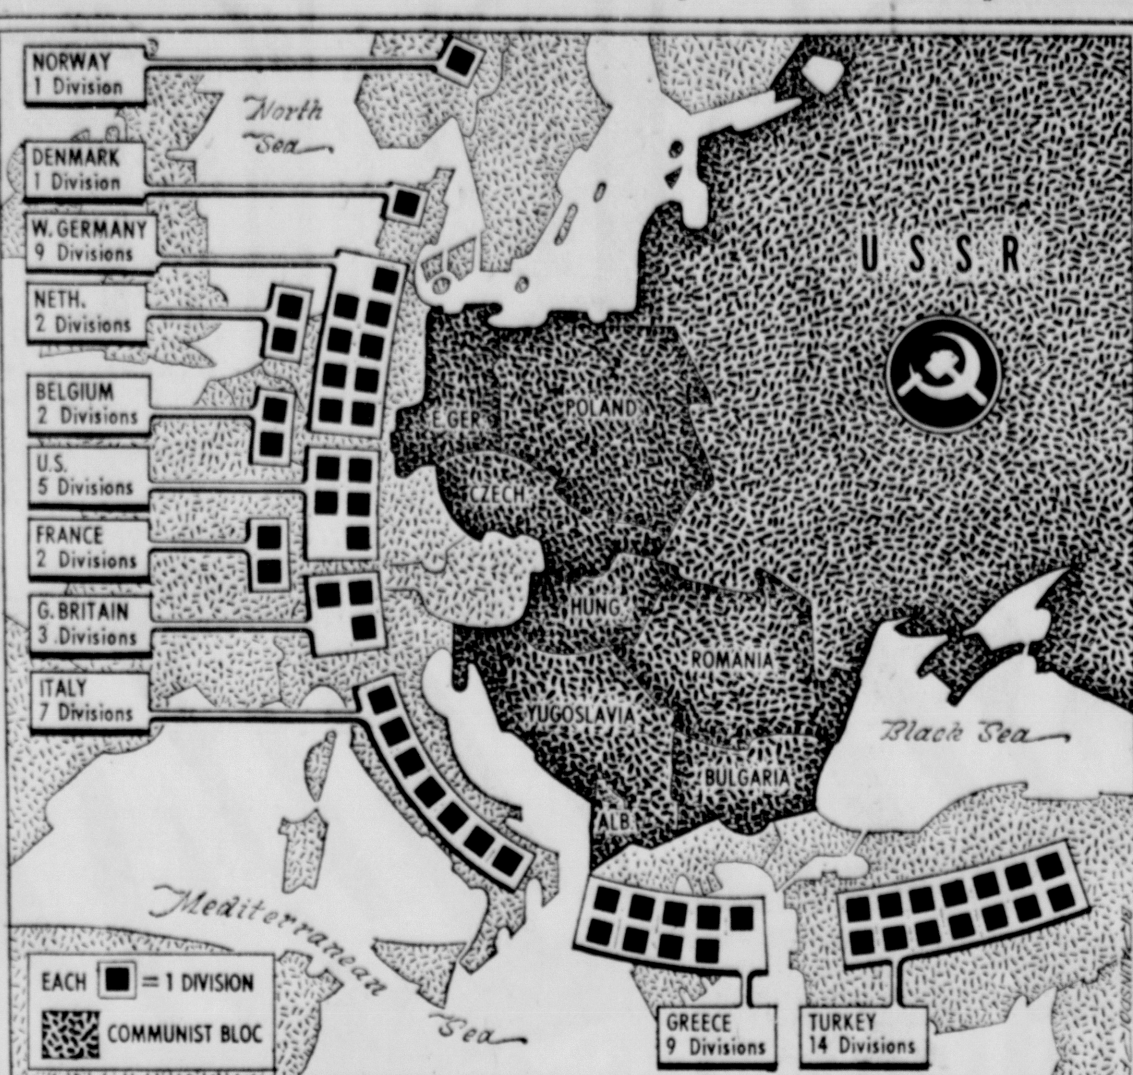

A country-by-country survey of NATO forces shows the following:

Belgium. Total armed forces: 110,000 men, including army 85,000; navy 5,000; air force 20,000. Total defense budget for 1962: $321,432,302. Total defense expenditures since NATO's formation in 1949: About $4,760,000,000. All committed to NATO.

Canada. Total armed forces: 135,000 men, including army 53,750; navy 21,480; air force 52,490. Total defense budget: $1,614,000,000. Total since NATO's formation: $21,766,000,000.

Manpower committed to NATO's European front is 14,000 men, including a brigade group and four air force fighter squadrons.

Denmark: Total armed forces: 43,000 men, including army 29,000; navy 7,000; air force 7,000. Defense budget for 1962: $179,000,000.

MONEY AND MEN BEHIND NATO - 1962

Country	Armed Forces	Defense Budget	Country	Armed Forces	Defense Budget
BELGIUM	110,000	$321,432,000	ITALY	466,000	1,189,300,000
BRITAIN	454,300	4,653,000,000	LUXEMBOURG	5,500	7,000,000
CANADA	135,000	1,614,000,000	NETHERLANDS	142,000	530,000,000
DENMARK	43,000	179,000,000	PORTUGAL	80,000	219,000,000
FRANCE	1,000,000	2,438,000,000	TURKEY	500,000	191,000,000
W. GERMANY	365,000	2,796,000,000	U.S.A.	2,617,000	48,000,000,000
GREECE	159,000	176,430,000	(ICELAND... no armed forces)

068,627. Total since NATO's formation: About $1,759,000,000. All committed to NATO.

France. Total armed forces:

1,008,791 men, including army 804,000; navy 67,791; air force 137,000. An increase of about 20,000 is foreseen. Defense budget for 1962: $2,438,177,874. Total since NATO's formation: About $38,778,000,000.

Of the army, two divisions are assigned to NATO in Germany plus a small brigade in West Berlin. Four divisions once earmarked for NATO are now in France or Algeria.

Of the navy, most of this is in the Mediterranean fleet which has been withdrawn from NATO command. The government plans to move fleet headquarters from Toulon in the Mediterranean to Brest in the Atlantic and the effect of this on NATO is not yet known.

The French First Tactical Air Force is under NATO command, but the rest of the air force is not. Aerial defense of French territory has been withheld from NATO.

West Germany. Total armed forces: 365,000 men, plus three army divisions under preparation. This total includes army 224,000 — to be augmented with two armored infantry divisions and one armored division; navy 26,000; air force 80,000. Total defense budget for 1962: $2,796,000,000. Total since 1953: About $23,911,000,000. Before joining NATO in 1955, West Germany contributed to the defense budgets of certain NATO countries by paying occupation costs.

All of West Germany's forces are committed to NATO.

Greece. Total armed forces: 159,000 men, including army 120,000; navy 17,000; air force 22,000. Total budget for 1962: $176,430,000.

Total Greek defense expenditures since NATO's formation: About $1,752,000,000. All committed to NATO.

ITALY'S BUDGET

Italy. Total armed forces: 466,392 men, including army 369,000; navy 40,814; air force 55,978. Total budget for 1962: $1,189,300,000. Total since NATO's formation: About $13 billion. All committed to NATO.

Luxembourg. Total armed forces: 5,500 men, all in army. Budget for 1962: $7 million. Total since NATO's formation: About $104,600,000. All committed to NATO.

Holland. Total armed forces: 142,000 men, including army 98,000; navy 23,000; air force 21,000. Budget for 1962: $530,000,000. Total since NATO's formation: about $6,075,710,000. Two army divisions currently assigned to NATO, with all committed to NATO.

Norway. Total armed forces: 37,000, including army 20,000; navy 7,000; air force 10,000. Budget for 1962: $176 million. Total since NATO's formation: About $1,862,500,000. All committed to NATO.

PORTUGAL HELPS

Portugal. Total armed forces: 80,000 men, including army 58,000; navy 9,000; marines 500; air force 12,500. Budget for 1962: About $219 million. Total since NATO's formation: About $1,306 million. Of the army, one division is at NATO's disposal, and 30,000 men are currently reported in Angola.

Turkey. Total armed forces: 500,000 men, including army 22 divisions; navy 119 various craft including nine destroyers and 10 submarines; air force three squadrons. Budget for 1962: About $191 million. Total since NATO's formation: About $1,287 million. All committed to NATO.

Britain. Total armed forces: 454,330 men, including army 200,000; navy 96,330; air force 158,000. Reported about to be raised to total of 480,000. Budget for 1962: $4,653,360,000. Total since NATO's formation: About $57,892,000,000.

53,000 BRITISH

Britain has 53,000 troops in Germany. Seven brigades committed to NATO in Germany and one brigade in West Berlin. Other troops are in the Far East, Mediterranean, Middle East and Africa. Strategic reserve is in Britain.

United States. Total armed forces: 2,617,687 men, including army 967,000; navy 635,787; air force 824,900; marines 190,000.

The estimated calendar year budget for 1962 is $48,506 million. Total defense budget since NATO's formation: $571.3 billion.

The U.S. has its Seventh Army, about 200,000 men in five divisions and three armored brigades assigned to NATO and stationed in Germany. This force has recently been augmented and now may be up to 300,000 men. The U.S. has at least 250 fighter-bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons stationed in Germany. The U.S. also has its strategic bombers and its Sixth Fleet in the European area. These are not now under NATO command but are available in case of hostilities.

U.S. CONTRIBUTION

The U.S. also has air force and army units in Italy, Greece and Turkey.

Iceland, the 15th NATO member, has no armed forces.

NATO strength on the central European front now is estimated at 22 1/2 divisions, counting the one-third of a division contributed by Canada.

The others come from: Britain (3); U.S. (5 plus three armored brigades); France (2); Germany (8 plus one under formation); Belgium (2), and Holland (2).

These are backed up by 3,000 aircraft in the Second and Fourth Allied Tactical Air Force Commands. The second, under British command, includes craft from Britain, Holland, Belgium and Germany. The fourth, under American command, includes craft from the U.S., Canada, France and Germany.

NORTHERN FRONT

The northern front includes three divisions — one each from Norway, Denmark and Germany, with tactical air support from Norway and Denmark.

The southern and southeastern front includes 14 divisions from Turkey, nine from Greece and seven from Italy, backed up by Turkish, Greek and Italian tactical aircraft plus American forces in Italy and Greece.

The NATO Atlantic Naval Command has no forces permanently assigned to it in peacetime, but eight NATO maritime powers have earmarked certain forces for this command in case of war.

There is also a channel command of units from Britain, France, Holland and Belgium, and a Mediterranean Communications Command at Malta.

FIVE FACING LIFE TERMS

READING, Pa. (AP)—A Berks County jury found five Philadelphia men guilty Tuesday night in the kidnap-robbery of an alleged numbers figure last September.

The victim, Frank Donato, was shot to death on a Reading street last January, two months before the trial. The case has not been solved.

The six men and six women jurors returned their verdict five hours after getting the case from Judge C. Wilson Auston. No date was set for sentencing.

The five are Frank S. Townsend Sr., his son, Frank Jr., Robert Sykes, John Miller and James Porter. They were charged with kidnap for extortion, robbery by assault and conspiracy.

More Educational TV For Philly Area

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Educational television will take a big step forward next fall when channel 12 joins channel 35 in broadcasting to the tri-state Philadelphia area, a television executive said Tuesday night.

John P. Twaddle, program director of channel 12 in Wilmington, Del., said advent of the new station will make this area the fifth two-station educational outlet in the country.

Currently there are about 70 educational stations.

Channel 12, Twaddle said, will broadcast in very high frequency. Channel 35 broadcasts on ultra high frequency and only sets with converters can pick up its programs.

The kidnap charge carries a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

Winter Set New Records For Everything From Fuel To Mittens And "Spirits"

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"Don't talk to me about cold winters. Until you've been through one like that looloo of '62-'63, brother, you haven't tasted winter at all. Why, I remember..."

Without doubt, if we could somehow listen in on the future, that's what we'd be hearing from the old timers in Pennsylvania about 50 years hence, as they pursued the ever-popular pastime of swapping reminiscences.

Inevitably there will be an accrual of lively fancy to the chronicle of the winter which ends officially with the dawn of spring today, but fact, free from the embellishment of legend, is enough to rank 1962-'63 with the worst winters of a hundred years.

DEMON WINTER

Perverse, capricious, unrelenting, nature seemed at times to be possessed by a demon, lathering snowfall upon snowfall in parts of western Pennsylvania, and bearing down again and again upon the entire state with blast after Arctic blast.

Seldom had so many automobiles been disabled by the cold, so much plumbing been frozen up, so much emergency work been done on home heaters, so many heavy clothes been lifted out of storage.

All winter long, on every hand, it seemed, somebody was talking about new records.

An end-of-season summing up by the Philadelphia Electric Co. confirmed that it was one of the coldest winters ever in this part of the world, bringing record demand for gas and steam services.

SET STEAM RECORD

On the last day of December, with the mercury congealed at three above, the company's steam division, supplying steam to 630 midcity consumers, including department stores, hospitals, apartment buildings and hotels, sent out 1,792,000 pounds of steam in a single morning hour.

That same day gas consumption in the company's service area in the suburbs also set a new mark when consumer demands totaled 266,600 cubic feet. The previous record, set Feb. 2, 1961, was 228,600 cubic feet.

The weekly electric output, up to March 2, showed a 4.9 per cent increase over the year before.

The Philadelphia Gas Works says the past winter was 23.4 per cent colder than normal, this estimate being based on "our send-out, which was 12.4 per cent higher than usual." Translated into consumer costs, it was explained, this means the customer who paid $200 for gas the winter before paid $250 this time. A company spokesman said December and January were all-time peak months and that PGW broke six all-time highs in the 1962-'63 winter.

COAL SALES UP

Hard coal production in November, December and January was about five per cent more than in the like period of 1961-'62. This increase, to about 4,602,000 tons, was attributed mainly to the hard weather, which, of course, continued into March.

A number of fuel oil companies reported heavy sales increases, especially in suburban areas, but cited no figures. Many families in suburban and semirural sections said they used up to three times as much fuel oil as ever before.

Department stores and apparel shops told of increases in the sale of heavy clothing, "substantial rather than spectacular, especially headwear, earmuffs, gloves, and woollen scarves."

"The sensational thing with us," said an official of a big Philadelphia department store, "was a run on portable heaters."

LIGHT SNOWFALL

Contrary to what some people expected, no apparent boom in the sale of home snow plows developed. Such equipment generally catches on first in the suburbs, as status symbols as well as for their utility. The Philadelphia region might be considered an exceptionally profitable field for these plows. It was noted, however, that although the area had some of the bitterest weather in generations, the snowfall was relatively light.

The state Liquor Control Board reported a considerable increase in liquor sales. It could not say how much of this increase resulted from the weather, but assumed that the prolonged cold had something to do with it. Tavern-keepers and bartenders, especially in metropolitan areas, were of the same mind.

Asks SS Card For His Unborn Child

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—There was quite a stir three months ago when Freeman Jelks Jr. applied for a Social Security card for his 6-month-old son.

Jelks now has applied for a card for an unborn child in the name of Spencer Jelks if it's a boy and Laura Jelks if it's a girl.

Mrs. Jelks said their son, Freeman III, needs a new Social Security card. "He's just about chewed the first one up."

Jelks said Tuesday the whole thing started when his son received some corporate stock for a Christmas present. Stockholders

SUSQUEHANNA FISHWAYS ARE DEBATED

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Technical experts from three states are discussing with representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service whether fishways should be built in the Susquehanna River.

The fishways would enable fish to surmount power dams to reach upstream spawning beds.

Although numerous studies concerning fishways and fishlife in the long, rambling river have been made, the spokesman said, current talks seek to outline what further studies are needed.

$5 MILLION COST

He said the cost of fishways could run as high as $5 million. But a Pennsylvania fish commission spokesman says his group has not asked for federal money. The commission takes the position that power companies who use the dams are "morally, legally and financially bound to bear this expense by terms of their 50-year contracts" when the dams were built.

The latter group then will make its own report to the service and to Pennsylvania, Maryland and New York. The committee report is expected to be ready about April 11, the spokesman said.

WOMAN KILLED

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A collision involving three cars on the Penn-Lincoln Parkway East killed Mrs. Marian Castellano, 22, of suburban Monroeville Tuesday night.

USE TVA DAMS IN CONTROL OF RIVER FLOODS

By BOB HORTON

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Rain beats monotonously against a house in northern Alabama, on a tobacco field in southern Kentucky and down a gully in Tennessee.

From the farmer to the salaried man to the independent operator in the sand-hauling business along the Tennessee River, the questions are about the same—

How much is it going to rain? When is it going to quit?

What is the Tennessee Valley Authority doing about it?

"WE FIGHT TIME"

No one can answer the first two with certainty. That complicates the answer to the third, which involves hours of tedious paperwork, split-second figuring by man and computer, perhaps hurried messages by microwave radio during the night, and juggling of waters behind more than two dozen dams.

The TVA that swirled with political controversy in the '30s today in the face of floods can shut off completely the Tennessee River where it enters the Ohio River at Paducah, Ky.

One of its decision-makers is Alfred Cooper, chief of TVA's river control branch, who sums up his job: "We fight time."

CONTROLS FLOW

If conditions call for it, white-haired, bespectacled Cooper twists the technical faucets that turn off the Tennessee.

The Tennessee was stopped dead in 1958, 1960 and 1961 to control flooding on the lower Ohio and down the Mississippi. TVA figures it has averted about $31.5 million damages along those areas by regulating the Tennessee's flow.

If Cooper has any simple formula for controlling a runaway river, it is this: Clear the mainstream of as much water as possible ahead of an expected flood crest, and hold back waters from the tributaries until the crest passes.

The hitch is deciding which of TVA's nine mainstream dams to open and which of its five major tributary dams to close, how much and for how long.

With a new flood crest coming down the Ohio, TVA Tuesday curtailed the Tennessee flow from 350,000 cubic feet per second—160 million gallons a minute—to 250,000 CFS. It may be cut to 200,000 CFS.

The idea is to slice the Tennessee flow to a minimum when the Ohio flood crest passes Paducah—about Wednesday—and then allow the Tennessee's pent-up waters to flow in behind.

U.S. CENSORS CUBAN EXILES' HIT-RUN RAIDS

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has put itself on record as being strongly opposed to hit and run commando raids on Cuba by anti-Castro exiles.

But two exile group leaders said Wednesday that "our attacks will continue until the final liberation of Cuba."

The State Department said Tuesday that "such raids do not weaken the grip of the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba. Indeed they may strengthen it."

Thus the department turned a cold shoulder on the news of an attack Sunday on a Soviet camp and ship in northern Cuba. Exile sources claimed some Russians were killed in an exchange of gunfire.

ATTACKS CONTINUE

Antonio Veciana and Cecilio Vazquez, leaders of the exile organizations Alpha 66 and Second National Front of the Escambray, said in a statement issued in New York this morning that the attacks would continue.

They would not comment directly on the State Department statement, but declared: "Our struggle belongs only and exclusively to the interests of the Cuban people and therefore we cannot accept that the solution of the Cuban case should be the isolation of our fatherland from the rest of the Americas."

The State Department said reports of the latest incident "reinforces our belief that these irresponsible and ineffective forays serve to increase the difficulty of dealing with the unsatisfactory situation which now exists in the Caribbean."

"The U.S. government is investigating fully to determine whether any violation of U.S. law is involved."

In a news conference Tuesday in Washington, spokesmen for the two refugee groups said the raid near Sagua la Grande in Las Vill Province was not launched from U.S. soil. They also argued that such attacks encourage opposition to Castro.

Without mentioning a raid, Havana radio said some wounded sailors had been taken to a hospital. Moscow radio, on the other hand, announced that a raid by exiles had taken place, blamed the United States, but made no mention of any Russian casualties.

Winter Deals Out Fading Blow Of Heavy Snow, Rain, Tornadoes, High Winds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fading winter landed storm-packed punches across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation and heavy rains Wednesday posed new flood threats in some states.

The wild outbreak of weather Tuesday included heavy snow, rain, hail, tornadoes and damaging wind storms. Storms in Indiana claimed at least three lives.

A snowstorm which swept from the Dakotas to Michigan, dumping a foot of snow in many sections, tapered off during the night as it moved into the Northeast.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northern New York, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, with more than six inches in most areas. Gale warnings were posted along the New England coast from Block Island, R.I., to Eastport, Maine.

TORNADOES, WINDS

Tornadoes and damaging windstorms struck areas in Indiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Kentucky. Several persons were injured and there was heavy property damage.

The twisters struck small communities in southern and central Indiana and killed two women in Beck's Mill. A girl drowned in a water-filled ditch in Indianapolis during a severe rain and wind storm. The tornado which swept across Crete caused an estimated $100,000 damage.

Violent winds swept areas in Kentucky, destroying and damaging several homes, a drive-in theater and several other buildings.

RAIN MAKING BILL NEAR VOTE IN PA. SENATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Franklin County squabble over artificial rainmaking has reached the floor of the Senate.

A bill banning chemical seeding of clouds to induce rain for commercial purposes was cleared for a floor vote Tuesday by the Committee on Health and Welfare.

It was amended to permit cloud seeding research with approval of the Department of Agriculture.

Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, sponsored the bill as a result of a dispute arising in his county last summer.

It seems a farmer hired a firm to seed clouds over his orchard to save them from the prolonged drought. Whether or not the seeding was successful, it rained. Neighboring farmers held a meeting to protest that all the rain was funneled onto the enterprising farmer's acreage.

Spend $1,000 For Squirrel Bridge

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP) — A $1,000 bridge was erected Tuesday so that squirrels can cross busy Olympia Way in quest of food without getting killed.

Traffic fatalities among the squirrels were of concern to businessmen of the Parks Plaza office building, who have been feeding them. The bushytails live across the street from the office building, in Public Library Park.

The narrow metal and canvas bridge, 30 feet high and 60 feet long, was erected free by contractor Amos J. Peters.

Socialite Charged In Barmaid's Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore grand jury returned a murder indictment Tuesday against William D. Zantinger, tobacco farmer charged with the death of a barmaid Feb. 9.

Zantinger, 24, is accused of causing the death of Mrs. Hattie Carroll, 51, by striking her with a wooden cane during a society dance at the Emerson Hotel.

MILK AND HONEY. A lovely girl writes: When I was a little girl, I recall that my grandmother used all sorts of home remedies on her skin. Honey and cream, in particular. I cannot remember just how she applied them, and I wonder how effective they were. Perhaps you know.

The answer: Before the advent of modern cosmetics ladies resorted to all sorts of beauty dodges. They bathed in milk, masked their faces with crushed strawberries, powdered with flour and rouged with rose petals.

Some of the gambits had value. Milk, in a highly rarefied form, is still used in various skin products. But on the whole, effects were mostly incalculable. For certain, applications were messy propositions. Today, the cost of most would be prohibitive. Just figure out the cost of a tubful of milk!

That is not to say, however, that there are no home remedies worth using, both regularly or in a pinch. Recipes for many of them — oatmeal mask, cornmeal cleanser, lemon bleach — have been featured in this column.

But so as not to beg the present question, we did a bit of research and found that lovelies once used honey to stimulate the complexion's color. It was applied "neat" and allowed to set. Then the face was gently patted with the fingertips. The pull between the honey and the fingers triggered increased circulation. Or so it's said!

Cream was whipped, applied to the face and allowed to dry. The purpose? A smoother, whiter skin.

As ingenious as were those bygone beauties, the current crop of cosmetic scientists are more so. You just can't fight technology!

4 Crash Victims Were Electrocuted

BERLIN, N.J. (AP)—An autopsy shows four teenagers killed Monday night in an auto crash in this south Jersey town were electrocuted, according to the Camden County coroner's office.

The four were among 10 young people in a convertible that plunged through a guard rail and dropped 30 feet to the tracks of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines. Six were injured.

Coroners Howard Crean and Leroy Wooster said Tuesday the car smashed through 6,600 volt lines as it plummeted to the tracks.

The four dead included three girls and a boy, none over 15.

TRAPPERS MEET

CONFLUENCE, Pa. (AP)—A meeting of the Pennsylvania and national trappers associations is scheduled in this Somerset County community May 24-26.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By S. F. MacPHERSON

MARRIAGE RECORDS OF REV. DR. PAXTON

It will be remembered that the second and youngest son of the Rev. Dr. William and Jane (Dunlap) Paxton, was a physician, who practiced his profession in Carlisle, Gettysburg, and last of all at Fairfield. The late Dr. Henry M. Stewart, who spent some time compiling a partial history of the medical profession in Adams County, Pennsylvania, had this to say of Dr. John Paxton: —

"Dr. John Paxton was born in 1796 at Millerstown, now Fairfield, Adams County, Pa., a son of Rev. Dr. William Paxton and a brother of Colonel James Dunlap Paxton, soldier and manufacturer of iron in Pennsylvania and Maryland for many years. John Paxton obtained the degree of M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1820 — the subject of his thesis being Epilepsy. Settled in Carlisle soon after his graduation and began practice there. Later he returned to Adams County on account of failing health. He died in Fairfield of pulmonary consumption on December 27, 1840, aged 44 years."

According to the family Bible of James Wilson, pioneer member of the Wilson family in the Marsh Creek Settlement, Dr. John Paxton and his wife, Jane Wilson, were the parents of the following children: —

1. James Wilson Paxton — died January 6, 1892 — aged 64 years.
2. William H. Paxton — born December 20, 1838 — died young — buried in the family plot of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton, Lower Marsh Creek Churchyard.

3. Mary Jane Paxton (the only daughter of Dr. John and Jane (Wilson) Paxton) — born July 3, 1825 — died young — buried in the family plot of her grandfather, Rev. Dr. William Paxton, in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Churchyard.

Jane Dunlap, daughter of Colonel James Dunlap and the wife of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton, survived her husband by some seventeen years. Her obituary was published in the "Adams Sentinel," under date of Tuesday, November 18, 1862 —

"Died, Friday morning, November 14, 1862, at the residence of her son, Colonel James D. Paxton, in this place (Gettysburg), Mrs. Jane D. Paxton, wife of the Rev. William Paxton, D.D., dec'd., aged 90 years and 9 months."

Note: — Jane (Dunlap) Paxton is buried in the Lower Marsh Creek Churchyard, in the family plot, her grave beside that of her husband.

On September 20, 1848, the following "news story" appeared in the "Adams Sentinel": —

"Fire — It is with feelings of deepest regret that we announce the total destruction by fire, on Friday, September 17, 1848, of the large brick residence of Colonel James D. Paxton, at the east end of Millerstown (now Fairfield), in this County, and for many years the residence of the venerated Rev. Dr. William Paxton, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, and a pioneer Presbyterian minister in the Marsh Creek section."

"It is thought that the fire was caused by a spark from the kitchen chimney, which set fire to the roof of the house. Before it was discovered the blaze had made such progress as to make any attempt to save it entirely fruitless."

"Colonel Paxton was in Gettysburg at the time, with many other citizens of Millerstown, and none but his aged mother and wife were in the house at the time. He succeeded in saving only a small box containing the Colonel's most valuable papers, and the furniture of the lower rooms. The loss is very considerable and there is no insurance."

The morning after the fire at the Paxton house a boy, who was drawn boy-like irresistibly to the scene, picked up, a short distance from the house site, a small, leather-bound book, partially burned and much defaced by water. This proved to be the record book of the Dr. William Paxton and it remained in the family of the boy who found it until at least 1942. Its present whereabouts is unknown. The first five pages in the book were torn and completely illegible but the remainder, with some help from a magnifying glass, could be transcribed. Because of their historical and genealogical value these records, as copied from the original, some twenty-one years ago, are included in this series of columns.

1. "Married, August 7, 1806, Francis Alexander Ramsey, of Tennessee, to Miss Anne Fleming, of Gettysburg."
2. "Married, November 27, 1806, James McGaughey, of Hamilton-Township, this County, to Miss Nancy Grier, of Frederick County, Maryland."
3. "Married, December 8, 1808, John Paxton, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Sarah Slemmons, daughter of Robert Slemmons, of the same place."

4. "Married, December 22, 1808, George McLaughlin, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Eleanor Chamberlain, daughter of Clayton Chamberlain, of the same place."

5. "Married, January 5, 1809, Joseph Hill, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Jane Meredith, daughter of Captain Thomas Meredith, of the same place."

6. "Married, March 23, 1809, David Wilson, Jun'r., of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Martha Agnew, daughter of James Agnew, of the same place."

7. "Married, April 23, 1809, William White, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Fanny Greer, of the same place."

8. "Married, May 25, 1809, James Blythe, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Rebecca Slemmons, the daughter of Robert Slemmons, of the same place."

9. "Married, March 3, 1810, Joseph Stewart to Polly Morrow, the daughter of John Morrow, Esq., of Liberty Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

10. "Married, August 26, 1811, John Taylor, of Tennessee, to Elizabeth Slemmons, the daughter of Robert Slemmons, of Hamilton Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

The marriage records of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton, of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, will be continued in this column next week.

DEMOCRATIC DELAY SCORED BY HAWBAKER

By JACK LYNCH

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican chairman of the Senate Nominations Committee said Wednesday Democrats are delaying unreasonably long confirmation of some of Gov. Scranton's appointees.

Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker of Franklin County added that he was particularly disturbed in the delay of confirmation of attorney Herbert J. Johnson Jr. of Erie as Erie County Orphans Court judge.

Gov. Scranton named Johnson on Feb. 5 to succeed Justice Samuel Roberts, elected to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court last November.

NEED 7 DEMOCRATS
Hawbaker also expressed dismay over Democratic delay of confirmation of appointments to such key agencies as the Securities Commission and the Harness Racing Commission.

Confirmation of gubernatorial appointments requires a two-third vote of the 50-member Senate, or 34 affirmative votes. Since Republicans have only 27 votes they need 7 Democratic ballots for each confirmation.

"The thing that bothers me is that I'm being held responsible publicly for keeping these appointments in committee," said Hawbaker, adding:

"I think the delay in the case of Johnson is unreasonable."

UNWRITTEN RULES
It is no secret in the Senate chamber that Sen. William Sessler, D-Erie, has been delaying confirmation of Johnson, a Republican.

Sessler, however, has consistently declined to state his position.

It is tradition in the Senate that no appointees are run for confirmation without approval of their home county senator. The unwritten rule is rarely if ever violated.

Hawbaker could, by virtue of his chairmanship, report out a contested appointee, but he would run the almost certain risk of having the man defeated.

ANNOYED BY MAIL

"I don't think that would be fair to the nominee," said Hawbaker.

Yet, he added, he is becoming increasingly annoyed at the volume mail which he said blames him for bottling up a number of nominations.

"I've sent them to the Democratic caucus and they haven't moved on them," he said. "There is nothing I can do about it. I could report them out and let them lie on the table, but that would serve no useful purpose."

Republicans exercised the same veto power last session when they refused to confirm former Democratic congressman Herbert McGlinchey of Philadelphia as a member of the state Tax Equalization Board.

ON WAITING LIST
Other nominations awaiting Democratic approval include:

4. "Married, December 22, 1808, George McLaughlin, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Eleanor Chamberlain, daughter of Clayton Chamberlain, of the same place."

5. "Married, January 5, 1809, Joseph Hill, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Jane Meredith, daughter of Captain Thomas Meredith, of the same place."

6. "Married, March 23, 1809, David Wilson, Jun'r., of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Martha Agnew, daughter of James Agnew, of the same place."

7. "Married, April 23, 1809, William White, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Fanny Greer, of the same place."

8. "Married, May 25, 1809, James Blythe, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Rebecca Slemmons, the daughter of Robert Slemmons, of the same place."

9. "Married, March 3, 1810, Joseph Stewart to Polly Morrow, the daughter of John Morrow, Esq., of Liberty Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

10. "Married, August 26, 1811, John Taylor, of Tennessee, to Elizabeth Slemmons, the daughter of Robert Slemmons, of Hamilton Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

The marriage records of the Rev. Dr. William Paxton, of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, will be continued in this column next week.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Former state Republican chairman George I. Bloom, was honored at a testimonial dinner Tuesday night.
Some of the state's leading Republicans, including Gov. Scranton, and even a few Democrats, turned out to pay tribute to Bloom now serving as commonwealth secretary.

Others joining Scranton in lauding Bloom included his successor as state GOP chairman, Craig Truax, and former governor and U.S. Sen. Edward Martin, whom Bloom had served as secretary.

Always the heart of our business

Why do most drugstores sell everything from breakfast to dance wax . . . ? The answer is simple. It is a matter of economic necessity. Americans, thank goodness, are generally healthy and there are not enough prescriptions to keep all drugstores going. Thus, we sell a variety of merchandise. By so doing we are able to stay open and render assistance whenever and wherever it is needed. Prescription service, however, continues to be the heart of our business and we are always pleased to assist you when medication is needed.

Monongahela And Ohio River Residents Brace For Another Flood Soon

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Communities along the Monongahela and Ohio rivers, hit by some serious flooding two weeks ago, braced for another flood today as the rain-swollen waters continued to rise.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh said flooding would probably occur the length of the Monongahela and on portions of the Ohio.

Police in McKeesport, Brownsville, Clairton, Elizabeth and Charleroi reported minor flooding in their towns Tuesday night. They said several families were forced from their homes in low-lying areas and many stores and homes had basements flooded.

TOP FLOOD STAGE

The weather bureau said flood stage would be surpassed by eight to ten feet on the Monongahela from Greensboro to Elizabeth.

Water in the Ohio was expected to reach the 25-foot flood level at Pittsburgh and the 36-foot level at Wheeling, W. Va.

The bureau said the Ohio would crest about four feet above flood stage at both Pittsburgh and Wheeling sometime today.

Heavy rain and thunderstorms that lashed the Monongahela River basin in West Virginia and southwestern Pennsylvania were responsible for the swollen rivers.

THREAT ELSEWHERE

Meanwhile, the weather bureau reported that a flood threat on the Allegheny River has eased. The bureau said the river had been dropping steadily and that ice was no longer a serious problem.

However, authorities in Crawford County were keeping a close watch on French Creek, a tributary of the Allegheny. The creek caused some flooding in the Meadville area Tuesday and had risen slowly to 58 feet Wednesday.

State police reported Route 19 south of Meadville still closed to cars for about eight miles. However, one lane was open for trucks.

COURT OKAYS VERDICT UPSET

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania Supreme Court has upheld a Berks County Court ruling that set aside a $20,605 verdict returned in favor of a Warren man who claimed he was injured seriously in a fall at the Reading Police Home Association's club house.

The high court ruled in an opinion Tuesday that Algot V. Eckstrom was guilty of contributory negligence by failing to take the necessary precautions for his own safety.

Eckstrom had filed suit in Berks County Court, claiming he was injured while a guest at the police association's club house in Exeter Twp. on July 9, 1957.

The suit contended Eckstrom fell when he went through a door-

GERMANS BID FOR NEW LAND IN DONEGAL

By JOHN P. GALE

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Nuala O'Dea, 26, from an old Irish farming family, is a tiny and satisfied part of a German economic invasion rolling across her homeland.

Miss O'Dea works for a German factory in the sprawling industrial hinterland springing up around Shannon Airport. She starts at 8 a.m. in a brightly lit, air-conditioned factory block, takes orders from German bosses and earns $18.20 a week.

"I'm at least 3 pounds—$8.40—a week better off than in my last job as a waitress," she says. "I am also able to stay in Ireland. Until this job came along, I had made up my mind to emigrate, probably to America. There was not enough work for me on the farm."

BID FOR FARMLAND

Other Irish people view the German invasion less blissfully.

German land investments have sent values rocketing in some areas, good farms of 200 acres now cost more than twice the national average of $225 to $250 an acre. German demand has also pushed the prices of some residential holdings in County Cork to about 10 times their previous level—to $700 per acre.

Germans bid this month for about $300,000 worth of property in County Donegal. Much of it is farmland.

24 IN 4 YEARS

So far, the Irish government has stood off demands to curb the rate of investment. It is in fact trying to attract more industrialists, settling them in factories and paying state grants up to two-thirds of the total capital cost of building, site development and machinery.

There are benefits ranging from interest-free 7-year loans to a 10-year tax holiday on the profits of all new export industries. At Shannon, the tax holiday lasts until 1984 and raw materials enter the airport free of duty.

Twenty-four German industries have settled in the republic since 1959, attracted by these favorable terms and also the availability of a large low-cost labor pool. German industries are turning out on Irish soil such diverse products way he believed led to the men's room but which actually led to the cellar.

A jury awarded Eckstrom $20,605 in damages, but the verdict was reversed by the Berks County Court.

as ballpoint pens, carpets, cranes, grain dryers, wallets, fork lift trucks and mouth organs.

Nuala O'Dea's boss is Anton Dahmen from Aachen. He is works manager of a factory at Shannon that turns out fine wire gauze for television screens, auto carburetors and pharmaceutical purposes.

CITES ADVANTAGES

Dahmen said he had made a point of trying "not to bear down too hard" on his work force.

"They are more easily led than driven. Once they wanted a longer tea break. They got it. They wanted new stuff for the canteen—electric kettles and so on. They got that too.

"The big advantages of manufacturing here are the plentiful staff and our location. We are much nearer to our markets in the states and in England. We can meet an order from the U.S. in three days if the stuff is in stock."

FARMERS WILL DECIDE WHEAT CONTROL PLAN

By OVID MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy said in a recorded statement Wednesday that results of a referendum to be held soon on a new wheat control program will show whether farmers want a national policy of farm supply and farm income stabilization.

The statement was sent here for the convention of the National Farmers Union.

The referendum—probably to be conducted late in May—will give the nation's wheat growers a chance to approve or reject a plan which would impose tighter limitations on production than exist now and would set up a dual price system. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting is required to make it effective.

Kennedy broadened the issue to include his administration's entire farm policy.

HEAR FREEMAN

The Farmers Union has been a staunch supporter of those policies and its leaders supported him for president.

The Kennedy farm policies envision broad farmer-approved commodity supply and production control measures to halt surplus output, to improve farm income and to cut costs of farm programs to taxpayers. Present programs have been costing well over $3 billion a year.

Kennedy ran in 1960 on a platform promising stronger federal farm programs. But he has run into strong opposition in efforts to get his policies translated into

Soviet Names New Farm Boss

MOSCOW (AP)—Grigory Melnik, a veteran Communist party functionary, moved Wednesday into one of the toughest political jobs in the Soviet Union—boss of the sprawling virgin lands farm region of Kazakhstan.

His job, as chairman of the Kazakhstan Communist party Central Committee's Bureau for Agriculture, will be to reverse the five-year trend of declining wheat harvests in the virgin lands.

Three men who failed in this assignment have been fired from the top party post in Kazakhstan in the last four years.

Arabs Offer Plan To End Yemen Fight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Arab Republic will pull its troops out of Yemen if Saudi Arabia and the Aden Federation quit supplying aid to royalist counter-revolutionaries there, a U.N. source says.

The source said U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser told U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche during his recent visit to Cairo he had more than 25,000 men in Yemen. President Abdulah Sallal of Yemen told Bunche these could go home if arms and money supplied to his enemies were cut off by the neighboring states.

Opposing him have been the American Farm Bureau Federation and many Republicans and some Democrats in Congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who addressed the meeting Tuesday night, predicted victory for the wheat plan—and hence no change in the President's farm policies.

PRINTERS NOT TO VOTE AGAIN ON OLD STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking printers will hold a monthly membership meeting Sunday, but Local 6 President Bertram A. Powers says there is no plan to vote again on the rejected proposal for settlement of the 103-day-old newspaper shutdown here.

The meeting place, a high school auditorium, has a capacity of 1,150 persons, far fewer than the number who met in a larger hall last Sunday and voted down the proposed printer-publisher contract 1,621-1,557.

Besides the 3,000 printers, Local 6 of the International Typographical Union has 6,000 commercial shop printers in its membership. Powers says the commercial printers don't like to vote on newspaper contracts.

TO HEAR REPORTS

Powers said Tuesday the members will receive a report on the strike but will not take any action unless specific notice of the intention to do is given to the shops "before the end of the work week" on Friday.

In the 111-day-old blackout of two Cleveland, Ohio, newspapers, "very good progress" was reported in contract discussions with one of three striking unions.

Powers said the New York printers' meeting agenda will not be set until Friday, leaving the door open for possible reconsideration of the settlement terms recommended by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and approved by publishers and ITU leaders.

LHS Seniors Give Play Friday

The Senior Class of the Littleton High School will present its annual play on Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The production is "Stardust," a comedy in three acts by Walter Kear.

The story tells of a Broadway actress who comes to a dramatic school of students who believe in living the parts they portray. The presentation is under the direction of James Witt, of the faculty English Department.

The cast includes: Robin Thomas, Dale Bair, Patricia Myers, Robert Hershey, Joan Barton, Frank Basehoar Jr., Carole Hollinger, Nancy Yingling, Sally Durbin, Patricia Goodwin, Fred Snyder, Elaine Bridger, Philip Close, Ellen Baumgardner, Jill Weikert, Janice Evans, Dwight Wintroe, and Ned Wantz.

The stage crew consists of Wesley Haines, Charles Hahn and Burnell Hilker.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets are available from any Senior or at the door.

SPACE TOOLS TAKE SPECIAL DESIGNING

BALTIMORE (AP)—There you are, a thousand miles in space, and your space vehicle develops a loose bolt. What do you do?

You obviously don't pull into the nearest garage. Nor do you put an ordinary wrench to the bolt and give it a vigorous tug—because if you do, you will turn yourself and the bolt won't budge.

The reason is weightlessness—lack of the pull of gravity.

On earth, you fix a wrench to a bolt, give a yank on the handle, and the bolt turns. Out in space, where there is no gravity, the astronaut would pull and the reaction would turn him rather than the tool. That is torque, which deals generally with the turning and twisting force applied to a body.

SPRING HAMMER

The Space Systems Division of Martin Co. and a tool firm, Black & Decker Manufacturing Co. of Baltimore, are studying the problem. They think they have some tentative answers.

One of the tools they developed is called a zero reaction space wrench. It looks like a pair of pliers. Because the forces involved in squeezing are equal in opposite directions, they neutralize each other. The wrench is plugged into the space vehicle wall, anchored by pins protruding from the wrench.

How about a hammer? It also loses effectiveness in space because its most important potential—the force of weight—is gone. The engineers recommend a spring-loaded impact hammer, similar to a center punch.

The space repairman will have one advantage. He will be able to stand on his head without discomfort if necessary in reaching into out-of-the-way places.

FIRE DAMAGES BUSINESS AREA

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Fire swept through the Terre Haute business district Wednesday, destroying 10 stores, injuring three firemen and causing an estimated several million dollars property damage.

Five buildings were destroyed and others were damaged in a seven-hour blaze whipped by 30 mph winds. Firemen controlled the fire at 8:32 a.m. but kept a four-block downtown area roped off.

U.S. 40 and other downtown streets were closed by piles of brick from fire-shattered walls. Three firemen were injured as a brick wall collapsed. Their condition was not believed serious. Chief Norman Fesler was treated in a hospital for lacerations and exhaustion but returned to direct the fight.

Two other firemen also were treated for cuts and smoke inhalation.

The fire started in a bowling alley in the basement of a four-story building that formerly housed the Deming Hotel.

Civic Leader Is Sentenced For Fraud

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Merle F. Wadlinger, an Erie civic leader and the father of four, was sentenced to a maximum 10-year prison term Tuesday after pleading guilty to embezzling $179,242. He also was fined $22,000.

Wadlinger, 46, former assistant vice president and trust officer at the Marine National Bank of Erie, pleaded guilty before Judge Joseph P. Willson in U.S. District Court to 20 counts of embezzlement and two counts of false entry.

Investigators said the shortages, discovered last November, occurred in 34 trust accounts over a 20-year period.

An FBI agent testified at Wadlinger's arraignment that additional shortages of $26,090 were discovered after Wadlinger was indicted by a federal grand jury.

Abbottstown

ABBOTTSTOWN—Rev. Dr. M. R. Hamsher, former president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, was the guest speaker for Lenten service Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran Church. The Rev. Charles Snyder and Rev. Karschner will exchange pulpits next Wednesday evening. St. John's Church Sunday School will again pay half of the expenses for members attending Camp Navakwa this summer. Students who have completed Fifth Grade are eligible to attend camp.
